Push Huge Environment Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Citizens Task Force on Environmental Protection today handed Gov. John Gilligan the results of its four months' work—163 pages of anti-pollution recommendations for Ohio.

Among the task force's major proposals is creation of a state Department of Environmental Protection. This idea and others were announced earlier as the task force drafted tentative recommendations.

In presenting the report, Col. John Glenn, chairman of the 51-member task force, noted that Ohio had "the unique and dubious distinction of having at least some degree of every type of pollution."

Specific recommendations included:

—Establishment of a Department of Environmental Protection and a Council on Environmental Quality to review state policies and recommend revision, and an Environmental Trust Fund to administer existing and new funds for ecological activities.

—Limiting the discharge of air and water pollutants, with enforcement through comprehensive permit and monitoring systems and fines for violators.

—Initiation in the second half of this decade of a system of charges to polluters, based on environmental damage resulting.

—Development of a state-wide land use allocation plan to protect natural systems, with state zoning powers.

—Encouraging development of markets for recycled waste materials and enforcing standards for solid waste handling.

—Requiring soil conservation and erosion control, with the power to ban use or manufacture of substances harmful to the soil.

—Regulation of the location of power plants and transmission lines, enactment of a severance tax on minerals and timber, and requiring of a per-acre bond for strip mining as a guarantee of reclamation.

—Authorization for citizens to bring legal action against alleged polluters including governmental entities.

The most common regulatory device suggested by the panel was requirement of a state-issued permit for activity resulting in pollution. Presently the technique is used by the Ohio Water Pollution Control, although the attorney general has voiced doubt of its legality.

The report proposes permits for air pollution, strip mining, use of agricultural chemicals, discharge of radioactive waste.

Slate Vote On Welfare, SS Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, which already has shown itself closely divided on welfare reform, moved today toward a decisive vote on a $2,400-a-year family income floor.

Supporters of the legislation, backed both by President Nixon and Democratic leaders, turned back the first challenge to the welfare plan Monday on a 209-172 procedural vote.

The margin was considered narrow because the House usually approves almost routinely its Rules Committee's recommendations on how to handle bills.

The effect of Monday's vote was to bar substitutes for amendments to the bill, at the same time giving opponents one more chance to accept or reject it as a whole.

An administration source said he expects the plan to win by about the same margin. But the opposition, ranging from those who consider the level too low and the work requirements harsh to those disapproving in principle of guaranteed income, has been hard to measure.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told the House a vote against the new program is a vote for "the hodgepodge mess that we have today."

"Any system that puts an incentive on a father to walk away from his children to assure them something to eat is not good public policy," said Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Most fires were in vacant buildings, he said, but they spread to occupied dwellings. "Our men face a summer far worse than ever before," Callahan said. He has spent 10 years in the Fourth Battalion.

Red Defector's Importance Played Down?

Official British Statements Show Uncertainties

LONDON (AP) — Some British security authorities said today that Soviet defector Anatoly Fedoseyev is a comparatively unimportant electronics engineer and not the key space scientist he was reported to be.

Other sources said Fedoseyev was an important Soviet official, but the British government wanted to play down his defection to minimize its effect on relations between the major Western nations and the Soviet Union.

"Just What Goes On?" asked the Daily Express in a banner headline.

Fedoseyev defected May 27 during the Paris Air Show, where he was deputy chief of the Soviet delegation. The British government announced Sunday that he had been given permission to stay in Britain, and there were reports that he was the brains behind the Soyuz space station program and the robot moon exploration program.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail N. Smirnovsky demanded Monday night that the Foreign Office allow a member of his staff to interview Fedoseyev. This appeared to indicate that the man was more than a minor official.

The Foreign Office said it would relay the demand to Fedoseyev. But Undersecretary Sir Denis Greenhill told Smirnovsky that Fedoseyev was free to contact the embassy anytime he wanted to.

The government had the 52-year-old defector under guard somewhere in the London area and was reported still questioning him.

The Guardian newspaper said intelligence sources told it "the man was proving of positive value" and the interrogation "is far from complete."

"It was understood that unofficial approaches have been made for permission or American specialists and agents to meet him," The Guardian said.

Taft Dinner Draws Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Just over 60 prominent Republicans paid $500 each Monday night to eat with Sen. Robert Taft Jr., and help him pay off a $600,000 campaign debt.

The closed dinner at the Columbus Club was reported to be harmonious.

Franklin County Republican official Gordon Peltier criticized the dinner plans for weeks in advance of the program, saying it would siphon money from a central Ohio fund raising affair planned for June 29.

Taft announced recently as a favorite son candidate for president. Peltier called that move a power play. He charged the Taft dinner was a party - splitting function.

Franklin County Republicans plan a $100 - per-plate dinner next Tuesday night with proceeds to benefit seven congressmen from central Ohio.

Columbus Soldier Dies Of Viet Wounds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Monday listed Army 1st Lt. Phillip Lee of Columbus as having died of wounds he received in the Vietnam War.

Lee was the husband of Margaret Lee, 1143 S. Cassingham Road.

He has also recommended that the state hire 500 permanent deputy registrars to work in the local offices to make the positions immune to political favoritism following changes of the state administration.

Curry said he would meet weekly with the task force assigned to review his proposals.

Times - Post Court Suits Continue

NEW YORK (AP) — With all eight judges sitting because of the "extraordinary importance" of the issue, the federal appeals court here today considers the government's move to halt The New York Times' publication of classified Pentagon papers.

A judge panel from the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals extended a restraining order against The Times today to allow the full court to hear what the newspaper called "a unique case in the history of the nation." Chief Judge Henry J. Friendly said that all the members had conferred by telephone over the weekend and were "in accord in their belief that this appeal raised questions of such extraordinary importance that it should be heard by all the judges."

The Times printed three installments of a series based on the Pentagon's 47-volume study of the origins and escalation of the Vietnam war, but the series was halted a week ago by the restraining order pending the outcome of the government suit.

Last Saturday, U.S. District Court Judge Murray I. Gurfein turned down the government's request for a preliminary injunction barring The Times from publishing further articles based on the classified documents but the government appealed to the circuit court.

Normally the appellate court here consists of nine judges, but currently there is a vacancy. Should the panel split 4-4 on a decision, Gurfein's ruling would stand and The Times (Continued on Page 12)

Ohio Auto Tag Change Being Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Motor vehicle registration would be streamlined and more than 300 deputy license registrars would lose their jobs under a proposal being considered by the Department of Highway Safety for use of our-year auto license plates in Ohio.

The proposal is the work of Donald Curry, registrar of motor vehicles. Department director Eugene O'Grady is expected to name a 12-man task force by Friday to study it and make recommendations within 90 days. The plan would go into effect before 1974.

Curry said under current practice 5.5 million persons swarm into county registration offices each year in a single, 30-day period.

If his plan is adopted, the process would take place every four years and would be spread over a five-month period from January through May. Car owners would be divided into four groups and each group would register its cars during an assigned month through April.

Owners of trucks and other types of motor vehicles would register during May.

"We are the largest custodians of records in Ohio," Curry said. He noted his bureau must handle millions of computerized files and issues more than 7.5 million plates and 6 million drivers licenses annually.

Curry said that if his plan is not approved by the Legislature he will revise purchasing times for license plates on his own authority.

He has also recommended that the state hire 500 permanent deputy registrars to work in the local offices to make the positions immune to political favoritism following changes of the state administration.

Medina Judge To Hear Command Influence Story

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Three high-ranking Army officers are still to testify in the pretrial hearing of Capt. Ernest L. Medina, as defense lawyers seek to prove that command influence kept Medina from testifying in other My Lai trials.

The witnesses yet to be called are Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of Ft. McPherson; Col. Wilson Freeman, staff judge advocate here, where the charges were filed; and Col. James Mobley, the investigating officer.

Command influence refers to an effort by superior military officers, through the Army chain of command or by weight of rank, to influence the outcome of the military judicial process.

Aubrey M. Daniel III, the Army prosecutor in the case of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., testified Monday that he had received a written order forbidding him from calling Medina as a witness in the Calley trial.

Daniel said high-ranking officers decided it would be inconsistent for the Army to use Medina to convict Calley and then to prosecute Medina on similar charges. The 34-year-old Medina, of Montrose, Colo., is charged with murdering 102 villagers at My Lai and assaulting another.

The former prosecutor testified that the order not to call Medina came from Col. Robert Lathrop, staff judge advocate at Ft. Benning, where Calley's trial was held. Calley was convicted of murdering 22 Vietnamese villagers.

Daniel said that during the Christmas recess of the Calley trial he went to the Pentagon for a meeting with 3rd Army officials as well as representatives of the judge advocate general's office.

The purpose of the meeting, Daniel said, was to discuss whether or not to call Medina as a witness.

He said no decision was made at the meeting, but that it was clear the 3rd Army representatives were against allowing Medina to testify for the government in the Calley case.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has ordered a grand jury-type investigation in the case of Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, accused of slaying six Vietnamese civilians, to determine if there is sufficient evidence for a court-martial.

Specification of charges will be read to Donaldson in a closed hearing Thursday at Ft. Meade, Md., the Army said Monday.

Donaldson is the highest-ranking officer to be accused of murdering civilians in the Indochina war and the first U.S. general in 70 years to be charged with a war crime.

Helicopter pilots allege he shot the civilians on the ground in Quang Ngai Province while flying over them in a helicopter between November 1968 and January 1969 while he commanded the Americal Division's 11th Infantry Brigade.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also is charged with assaulting another Vietnamese civilian.

In announcing the Article 32 hearing, the military's equivalent of grand jury investigation, the Army said a second assault charge had been dismissed by Lt. Gen. Claire Hutchin who "determined upon evaluating the evidence that no further proceedings on this specification were warranted."

Hutchin ordered an Article 32 investigation also for Lt. Col.

William J. McCloskey, 39, Wilkes Barre, Pa., who is charged with murdering two Vietnamese civilians in March 1969. The Army has said the two cases are not related. McCloskey was Donaldson's operations officer in Vietnam.

McCloskey said the papers he has show Robert F. Kennedy as the only ranking U.S. official indicating reservations on escalation of the war.

The papers cover tenures of former Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy's reservations came, McCloskey said, when the State Department was arguing that the United States could not save South Vietnam with Diem in power and the Pentagon arguing Diem was needed to rally South Vietnam.

"Kennedy said if we can't win with Diem and we can't win without him then why don't we disengage," McCloskey said. The papers leave no question, McCloskey said, that U.S. officials in Saigon were working with coup leaders.

Admiral Saw Atom Weapons Needed By GIs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe printed today what it said were excerpts from a Pentagon study on the Vietnam war. It includes a report on a high-level meeting at which a top U.S. officer demanded that commanders be given the freedom to use tactical nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

The report, taken from the 47-volume Pentagon study of the war, said that at a meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Honolulu in June 1964 Adm. Harry D. Felt, then commander of the Pacific forces, demanded the option to use nuclear weapon "as had been assumed under various plans."

There was no mention of the various plans.

The Globe is the third U.S. newspaper to publish excerpts from the massive Pentagon study detailing American involvement in Vietnam.

Also present at the JCS Honolulu meeting were Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, and John McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The discussion about the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam arose, the Globe said, on the question of whether the Chinese Communist forces would enter the war.

"Secretary McNamara then went on to say that the possibility of major ground action also led to a serious question of having to use nuclear weapons at some point," the Globe quotes the report.

"Admiral Felt responded emphatically that there was no possible way to hold off the Communists on the ground without the use of tactical nuclear weapons and that it was essential that the commanders be given the freedom to use these as had been assumed under various plans," the report said.

The Globe said discussions included the "desirability of obtaining a congressional resolution to void U.S. action."

"Lodge felt it would not be necessary. But Defense Secretary McNamara, Rusk and CIA favor the resolution," the Globe said.

Other excerpts in the Globe include a report on the 1968 Tet Offensive by Gen. Earle G. (Continued on Page 2)

Find Dud Bomb During Council Meet

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A pipe bomb hidden in a purse failed to go off at a crowded City Council meeting Monday night and was removed by police after about 400 persons had been evacuated.

Police said later that the device, discovered after an anonymous caller warned that it was set to explode at 9 p.m., couldn't have gone off because it lacked a blasting cap.

The bomb had a time device set for 9 p.m. but it had stopped at 8:10, officials said.

Mayor Ron James ordered the council chambers emptied of a standing-room-only crowd drawn by a debate on a controversial mobile housing development rezoning proposal. It took until 9:10 p.m. to clear everyone.

The bomb was found in a black leather purse on a seat near the front of the chamber. It was not known who left the purse.

Three previous Monday night council meetings have been disrupted by bomb threats in the past year, and there have been at least two other bomb threats at City Hall in that time. City Manager Thomas Fletcher said. No bombs were found after these threats.

Report RFK Urged Pullout In 1963 Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Paul N. McCloskey Jr. says secret papers show Robert F. Kennedy suggested during a State Department-Pentagon clash on overthrowing Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963 that America pull out of Vietnam.

In the end, the California Democrat said Monday, the United States "encouraged and authorized" the military coup in which Diem was killed, as U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge met with Diem while U.S. officials and coup leaders worked to overthrow him.

"It was an incredible case of duplicity on the part of the State Department," McCloskey told newsmen.

He said he will try Wednesday to put the papers, which he said he assumes are working papers for the secret Pentagon study on Vietnam policy, on the public record at a House hearing on security classifications.

Meanwhile, Reps. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chief architect of the Freedom of Information Act, and Ogden Reid, R-N.Y., announced they will file suit against Security of Defense Melvin R. Laird for release of the 47-volume Pentagon study.

The government is trying to block further publication of newspaper series on the document, "History of the U.S. Decision Making Process on Vietnam Policy," already started by The New York Times and The Washington Post.

The witnesses yet to be called are Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of Ft. McPherson; Col. Wilson Freeman, staff judge advocate here, where the charges were filed; and Col. James Mobley, the investigating officer.

Command influence refers to an effort by superior military officers, through the Army chain of command or by weight of rank, to influence the outcome of the military judicial process.

Aubrey M. Daniel III, the Army prosecutor in the case of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., testified Monday that he had received a written order forbidding him from calling Medina as a witness in the Calley trial.

Daniel said high-ranking officers decided it would be inconsistent for the Army to use Medina to convict Calley and then to prosecute Medina on similar charges. The 34-year-old Medina, of Montrose, Colo., is charged with murdering 102 villagers at My Lai and assaulting another.

The former prosecutor testified that the order not to call Medina came from Col. Robert Lathrop, staff judge advocate at Ft. Benning, where Calley's trial was held. Calley was convicted of murdering 22 Vietnamese villagers.

Daniel said that during the Christmas recess of the Calley trial he went to the Pentagon for a meeting with 3rd Army officials as well as representatives of the judge advocate general's office.

The purpose of the meeting, Daniel said, was to discuss whether or not to call Medina as a witness.

He said no decision was made at the meeting, but that it was clear the 3rd Army representatives were against allowing Medina to testify for the government in the Calley case.

General Faces Army Probe Of Alleged Viet Slayings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has ordered a grand jury-type investigation in the case of Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, accused of slaying six Vietnamese civilians, to determine if there is sufficient evidence for a court-martial.

Specification of charges will be read to Donaldson in a closed hearing Thursday at Ft. Meade, Md., the Army said Monday.

Donaldson is the highest-ranking officer to be accused of murdering civilians in the Indochina war and the first U.S. general in 70 years to be charged with a war crime.

Helicopter pilots allege he shot the civilians on the ground in Quang Ngai Province while flying over them in a helicopter between November 1968 and January 1969 while he commanded the American Division's 11th Infantry Brigade.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also is charged with assaulting another Vietnamese civilian.

In announcing the Article 32 hearing, the military's equivalent of grand jury investigation, the Army said a second assault charge had been dismissed by Lt. Gen. Claire Hutchin who "determined upon evaluating the evidence that no further proceedings on this specification were warranted."

Hutchin ordered an Article 32 investigation also for Lt. Col.

William J. McCloskey, 39, Wilkes Barre, Pa., who is charged with murdering two Vietnamese civilians in March 1969. The Army has said the two cases are not related. McCloskey was Donaldson's operations officer in Vietnam.

Ex-State Budget Director Given Fine

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A former state budget director and Dayton municipal judge has been fined $12,000 and ordered to pay taxes on $81,000 income he earned between 1963 and 1965.

Russell Carter, budget director under Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, also received three suspended, four-month prison sentences, one for each count of failure to pay taxes with which he was charged.

Admiral Saw Atom Weapons Needed By GIs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe printed today what it said were excerpts from a Pentagon study on the Vietnam war. It includes a report on a high-level meeting at which a top U.S. officer demanded that commanders be given the freedom to use tactical nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

The report, taken from the 47-volume Pentagon study of the war, said that at a meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Honolulu in June 1964 Adm. Harry D. Felt, then commander of the Pacific forces, demanded the option to use nuclear weapon "as had been assumed under various plans."

There was no mention of the various plans.

The Globe is the third U.S. newspaper to publish excerpts from the massive Pentagon study detailing American involvement in Vietnam.

Also present at the JCS Honolulu meeting were Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs; and John McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The discussion about the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam arose, the Globe said, on the question of whether the Chinese Communist forces would enter the war.

"Secretary McNamara then went on to say that the possibility of major ground action also led to a serious question of having to use nuclear weapons at some point," the Globe quotes the report.

"Admiral Felt responded emphatically that there was no possible way to hold off the Communists on the ground without the use of tactical nuclear weapons and that it was essential that the commanders be given the freedom to use these as had been assumed under various plans," the report said.

The Globe said discussions included the "desirability of obtaining a congressional resolution to wide U.S. action."

"Lodge felt it would not be necessary. But Defense Secretary McNamara, Rusk and CIA favor the resolution," the Globe said.

Other excerpts in the Globe include a report on the 1968 Tet Offensive by Gen. Earle G. (Continued on Page 2)

Find Dud Bomb During Council Meet

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A pipe bomb hidden in a purse failed to go off at a crowded City Council meeting Monday night and was removed by police after about 400 persons had been evacuated.

Police said later that the device, discovered after an anonymous caller warned that it was set to explode at 9 p.m., couldn't have gone off because it lacked a blasting cap.

The bomb had a time device set for 9 p.m. but it had stopped at 8:10, officials said.

Mayor Ron James ordered the council chambers emptied of a standing-room-only crowd drawn by a debate on a controversial mobile housing development rezoning proposal. It took until 9:10 p.m. to clear everyone.

The bomb was found in a black leather purse on a seat near the front of the chamber. It was not known who left the purse.

Three previous Monday night council meetings have been disrupted by bomb threats in the past year, and there have been at least two other bomb threats at City Hall in that time. City Manager Thomas Fletcher said. No bombs were found after these threats.

Army Hero Quits, Blasts Viet Soldiers, U.S. Leadership

SAIGON (AP) — A much-decorated U.S. Army colonel, quitting in disgust, has blasted the South Vietnamese army, the way the Americans trained it and the Vietnamization program.

"If we were going to get involved, and I think we never should have," said Col. David H. Hackworth, "we would have come over and organized the South Vietnamese army into a guerrilla posture, instead of as a direct reflection of the U.S.

corps with its divisions and all that junk . . ."

Hackworth, who was wounded four times in Korea and four more times in 5½ years in Vietnam, said in a wide-ranging interview he found a great difference between the Saigon government's troops and their Vietnamese adversaries.

The North Vietnamese or Viet Cong soldiers are "properly prepared for war," said Hackworth. "Most of their training is on political indoctrination, which results in a highly motivated soldier who really believes in what he's doing." By comparison, he continued, "these jokers in the South Vietnamese army are motivated by a new Honda, a Rolex watch, a refrigerator or a fan, or how many goodies you can get them from the P. That's it—not, 'Goddam, we're going to win this thing because it's important.'"

Hackworth called Vietnam-

ization, the Nixon administration's plan of turning the fighting over to the South Vietnamese so U.S. combat troops can pull out, "A public relations man's dream, from some guy on Madison Avenue."

"I just don't see the improvement that everybody else sees," he said. "Maybe I am just too close to the trees and can't see the forest. I think it's cosmetic surgery, and the people who are way out there making all those broad statements don't know what's going on." Hackworth, who lied about his age and enlisted when he was 15, has served for 25 years and is in an excellent position to make general. But he said he's quitting because he's just disgusted with the Army in Vietnam, an Army he said was commanded by "amateurs, these ticket-punchers, who run in for six months a year, and don't even know what the hell it's all about."

The United States had all the assets to win the war, he said, but failed because it tried to fight a guerrilla war with conventional tactics.

"We came in with a conventional army, led by conventional people, and all the tactical concepts, if there were any, were conventional."

"We thought we would steamroll our way through this war as we have every other war, World War I, World War II, Korea. We've won by the out-

John Hang Injured In Auto Crash

John Hang, 21, 128 W. Union St., was seriously injured in an automobile accident 5:34 p.m. Monday seven miles north of Washington C. H. on State Route 35.

He was listed in "poor" condition by hospital authorities at Fayette Memorial Hospital but is improving.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hang, he underwent surgery to remove one kidney and his spleen. He suffered fractured ribs and a fracture of the upper right arm.

Hang was a passenger in the car driven by Daniel J. Harney, 22, of Dayton, who was killed in the accident.

According to the report of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, a car driven by Marvin L. Gamble, 44, of Chillicothe, went left of center on a curve of the road and struck the Harney auto.

Hang was pronounced dead at the scene.

The accident is under investigation of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

Wiretap Policy Faces Trouble

New Court Ruling Heralds Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court in a tough 5-4 decision by Justice Potter Stewart has tightened restrictions on searches, indicating perhaps a difficult time for the Nixon administration's wiretap policies.

A government appeal seeking the unrestrained right to wiretap persons it sees as domestic subversives was granted Tuesday shortly before Stewart's ruling cut down the murder conviction of a New Hampshire man.

The Fourth Amendment and its guarantee against unreasonable searches and seizures are central to both cases.

Stewart said Edward H. Coolidge Jr. was entitled to a new trial in the slaying of 14-year-old Pamela Mason of Manchester principally because police had not obtained a warrant from a neutral magistrate to vacuum the suspect's car or evidence.

The decision, which drew heated dissents from Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices Hugo L. Black and Byron R. White, noted that searches "without prior approval by judge or magistrate, are per se unreasonable under the Fourth Amendment—subject only to a few specifically established and well-delineated exceptions."

The government's wiretap operations are based on the idea that there is an exemption to this rule for national security cases.

This position is associated most with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who declared two weeks ago that "never in our history has this country been confronted with so many revolutionary elements determined to destroy by force the government and the society it stands for."

Stewart, in announcing reversal of Coolidge's conviction and life sentence, said the burden is on those seeking an exemption from the warrant requirement to show the situation was imperative.

Stock List Rebounds

NEW YORK (AP) — A firming trend developed in the stock market at midsession today. Trading was moderate.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 5.04 at 881.57.

Among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, declines held a small lead over advances.

Analysts said some selective buying had replaced selling. They noted that blue chips in the Dow average and glimmers had strengthened.

Earlier in the session, when prices had continued to sag, analysts said May's sharp rise in consumer prices and increases in short-term interest rates were weighing on the market.

In glimmers, IBM was up 2 1/4 to 316 1/4; Polaroid was ahead at 109; Control Data was up 1 1/2 at 56 and Xerox was up 1/4 to 112 1/2.

Among the large blocks traded before noon was one of 11,300 shares of General Telephone at 30 1/4, down 1/4.

Viet Reds Hit Artillery Base South Of DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces, repulsed in an early morning ground attack, hit a besieged South Vietnamese artillery base just south of the demilitarized zone with a heavy mortar barrage Monday night.

Field reports said more than 300 mortar rounds hit Firebase Fuller, atop an 1,800-foot mountain four miles south of the DMZ. A spokesman said casualties among the defenders were light, with none killed.

Two American bases along the southern edge of the buffer zone also came under attack, but no casualties were reported.

The attacks resulted from a dry season buildup of North Vietnamese forces just south of the DMZ that Vietnamese officers at Firebase Fuller say has come later than usual this year because of the disruptive effect on the enemy of the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos last February.

Fuller has been the target of heavy intermittent shelling since Saturday. Officers at the base say it is surrounded by at least a battalion of enemy troops.

U.S. B52s and other aircraft are being used against the invaders around the base, and one field report said 10 secondary explosions were touched off by an AC119 gunship. The explosions appeared to be from gasoline rather than ammunition, and officers speculated that it was to be used in flame-throwers.

Elsewhere in Vietnam, at least 90 of the enemy were reported killed in scattered fighting. But in the Mekong Delta the Viet Cong attacked a village then ambushed a relief force, and 17 militiamen were reported killed, 16 were wounded and three were missing.

4-H Seeking Camp Nurse Applicants

Pickaway County 4-H is seeking a camp nurse for duty during the two 4-H camping sessions scheduled July 2-6 and July 13-17 at Tar Hollow.

Applications for the position will be accepted from either registered nurses or recent graduate nurses.

Meals and lodging will be provided along with salary.

Interested persons are asked to contact the County Extension Office, 474-7534.

Two Enlist For Service Duty

There were no Pickaway County registrants inducted into the armed forces through Selective Service in June. The month's call was for two inductees. Both men enlisted.

The enlistments were made by Steven E. Steinhauser with the army and John E. Tucker, air force.

The local Selective Service Board has not received July call. However, supplemental call for nine men on June 23 was received and eligible registrants notified.

water, and drilling for oil and gas.

The task force noted, however, that the water pollution permit system "has not been totally successful due to a liberal policy of renewal or extension of permits. . ."

The panel recommended fines to those failing to comply with abatement orders. Willful violators could be fined $10,000 for each offense or $500 per day.

Revenue from fines would be earmarked for use in environmental programs. In some cases the state could carry out abatement activities and charge costs back to violators.

Citing a need for "more authority, more manpower and more money" at the state level, the report said "a major commitment must be made from the general fund."

The recommendation came in the wake of cuts made recently by the House of Representatives in Department of Natural Resources budget requests for the next fiscal year. Director William Nye has said, the cuts would leave his department with virtually no new environmental programs.

Judge Gives Extended Jail Sentences

Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lmb meted stiff penalties to four motorists who appeared in court on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Thomas L. Downs, 25, Columbus, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. Also charged with driving when he had no license, he was fined $100 and costs on that infraction.

William Mickey, 42, Columbus, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail for DWI.

Charles Adron Pritchard, 28, Route 3, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail. Pritchard was also charged by Hope Pritchard with assault and battery and was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 60 days. The jail sentence was suspended and Pritchard was placed on probation.

James Estepp, 25, Columbus, was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to 15 days in the county jail for DWI. He was also fined $50 and costs for speeding 95 miles per hour in 50 mile zone. All four had their driving rights suspended for six months.

Other motorists appearing on the completed court docket were:

David A. Roy, 21, 344 E. Ohio St., $15 and costs for failure to heed stop sign; Raymond Giffin, 19, Stoutsville, $50 and costs for reckless operation; Ralph Mets, 28, 712 S. Wheeler; an early Vietnamization plan by President Johnson as a result of that offensive; and three cables from Gen. Taylor to President Kennedy in which the general recommended the deployment of 8,000 ground combat troops to Vietnam.

The Globe said it was making public for the first time "the role of the Kennedy administration in the escalation of the war."

"As early as May 11, 1961, President Kennedy," the article said, "had approved programs for covert action which had been recommended by a Vietnam Task Force."

"Among these actions were: (1) Dispatch of agents into North Vietnam."

"(2) Aerial resupply of agents in North Vietnam through the use of civilian mercenary air crews."

"(3) Infiltration of special South Vietnam forces into Southeast Laos to locate and attack Communist bases and lines of communication."

"(4) Formulation of 'networks of resistance, covert bases and teams for sabotage and light harassment' inside North Vietnam."

"(5) Conduct of overflights of North Vietnam for the purpose of dropping leaflets."

In a cable sent from the Philippines in October 1961, Gen. Taylor said his recommendation for 8,000 ground troops in Vietnam "without delay offers definitely more advantage that it creates risks and difficulties."

Embezzling Case Bound To Grand Jury

Charles D. Mosher, charged with embezzling $444.28 from Hop's Clark Service Station, was bound over to the Grand Jury by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb today.

The charges were filed against Mosher by Vernon Hopkins. Bond was set at $3,500.

James Whiteside, Orient, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for assaulting a police officer and $15 and costs for intoxication. Charges were filed against Whiteside by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson.

Michael Moore was fined $25 and costs for giving false information to a police officer and $15 and costs for intoxication.

Eugene Giffin, 39, 370 Weldon Ave., was fined $50 and costs with the fine suspended for assault and battery. Charges were filed by Donald Shisler.

Phyllis Hines, Circleville, was fined $15 and costs for intoxication. Ivan Crane, Circleville, forfeited a $24 bond for intoxication. Robert Smith forfeited a $50 bond for intoxication.

Teamster Chief Faces Charges

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Teamster boss William E. Presser has been freed on $5,000 bond after pleading innocent in U.S. District Court here to charges of embezzling $3,467 in union funds and falsifying records.

Presser had been indicted by a federal grand jury June 9. He faces possible jail sentences of up to 21 years and $50,000 in fines if convicted. He also could lose his job as head of Teamsters Joint Council 41 if convicted on the felony indictments.

Earlier in the year, the 63-year-old Presser pleaded guilty to eight counts of accepting money illegally for his union—a misdemeanor offense—and was fined $12,000 in federal court. Those charges had to do with advertising space sold for the Ohio Teamsters Journal.

Barricade Stolen

Paul Wellington, an employee of the Circleville Public Utilities Department, reported the theft of a flashing barricade to Circleville Police today. The barricade was valued at $27.

The Rocky Mountains aren't regarded as ideal farmland, but soil in the high country supports 4,500 different species of wild plants.

John Hang, 21, 128 W. Union St., was seriously injured in an automobile accident 5:34 p.m. Monday seven miles north of Washington C. H. on State Route 35.

He was listed in "poor" condition by hospital authorities at Fayette Memorial Hospital but is improving.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hang, he underwent surgery to remove one kidney and his spleen. He suffered fractured ribs and a fracture of the upper right arm.

Hang was a passenger in the car driven by Daniel J. Harney, 22, of Dayton, who was killed in the accident.

According to the report of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, a car driven by Marvin L. Gamble, 44, of Chillicothe, went left of center on a curve of the road and struck the Harney auto.

Harney was pronounced dead at the scene.

The accident is under investigation of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

Viet Reds Hit Artillery Base South Of DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces, repulsed in an early morning ground attack, hit a besieged South Vietnamese artillery base just south of the demilitarized zone with a heavy mortar barrage Monday night.

Field reports said more than 300 mortar rounds hit Firebase Fuller, atop an 1,800-foot mountain four miles south of the DMZ. A spokesman said casualties among the defenders were light, with none killed.

Two American bases along the southern edge of the buffer zone also came under attack, but no casualties were reported.

The attacks resulted from a dry season buildup of North Vietnamese forces just south of the DMZ that Vietnamese officers at Firebase Fuller say has come later than usual this year because of the disruptive effect on the enemy of the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos last February.

Fuller has been the target of heavy intermittent shelling since Saturday. Officers at the base say it is surrounded by at least a battalion of enemy troops.

U.S. B52s and other aircraft are being used against the invaders around the base, and one field report said 10 secondary explosions were touched off by an AC119 gunship. The explosions appeared to be from gasoline rather than ammunition, and officers speculated that it was to be used in flamethrowers.

Elsewhere in Vietnam, at least 90 of the enemy were reported killed in scattered fighting. But in the Mekong Delta the Viet Cong attacked a village then ambushed a relief force, and 17 militiamen were reported killed, 16 were wounded and three were missing.

The decision, which drew heated dissents from Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Hugo L. Black and Byron R. White, noted that searches "without prior approval by judge or magistrate, are per se unreasonable under the Fourth Amendment—subject only to a few specifically established and well-delineated exceptions."

The government's wiretap operations are based on the idea that there is an exemption to this rule for national security cases.

This position is associated most with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who declared two weeks ago that "never in our history has this country been confronted with so many revolutionary elements determined to destroy by force the government and the society it stands for."

Stewart, in announcing reversal of Coolidge's conviction and life sentence, said the burden is on those seeking an exemption from the warrant requirement to show the situation was imperative.

Meals and lodging will be provided along with salary. Interested persons are asked to contact the County Extension Office, 474-7534.

Two Enlist For Service Duty

There were no Pickaway County registrants inducted into the armed forces through Selective Service in June. The month's call was for two inductees. Both men enlisted.

The enlistments were made by Steven E. Steinhauser with the army and John E. Tucker, air force.

The local Selective Service Board has not received July call. However, supplemental call for nine men on June 23 was received and eligible registrants notified.

TV Okays Bond Issue, Employment

Teays Valley Board of Education involved themselves with employment of teaching staff and elected to continue their meeting tonight and Wednesday to interview final candidates for the positions of assistant principal at the high school and Scioto principal.

Superintendent Benis Lutz noted today that about 50 applications were received to fill all the vacancies in the administration this year. The board will be meeting with a number of them both evenings and should award a contract to one of the candidates Wednesday.

Teays Valley district staffing noted a change with the resignation of four teachers: Millie Wendt, Walnut sixth grade; Dennis Founds, high school social studies; Martha Ewing, high school home ec; and Dana Sherric, Walnut special education. A one-year leave of absence was granted to Mary Alice Peters, Ashville.

Employed were: Jerinel Maynard, high school home ec.; Sharon Downard, Walnut fifth; Pamela Buettner, Ashville second; Philip Forsythe, high school social studies and freshman football coach; Elaine Winter, grade 7 and 8 home economics, part time.

VIVIAN Sheets was hired as secretary in the seventh and eighth grade level, beginning Aug. 15.

Vacancies still exist in two sixth grade classes, two special education, high school math and the two administrative posts.

Teays Valley board employed the firm of Squires, Sanders and Dempsey, bonding attorneys, to advise them in procedures to present a bond issue to the citizens on the November ballot. The $2,875,000 bond issue will be used to construct an upper elementary school, an addition to the Ashville school and to improve the sewage treatment plants at Walnut and Scioto elementary schools.

Two girls, Bonnie Grabill and Cynthia Thomas, were approved for graduation when they complete tutorial requirements. The board approved allotments for an elementary student to attend the Neil Ave. school in Columbus for the physically handicapped.

Belva Hollis and Florence Collins were hired as summer custodial workers. H. L. Patterson was employed in the maintenance area.

The next session of the TV board will be July 19. At this meeting, members will approve the annual budget and study bids for milk, bread, gas, tires, etc.

Discussed at last evening's meeting was the need for possible outside storage space to be used adjacent to the high school building, and additional personnel that may be needed in the library, cafeteria and custodial areas at the school.

Bids Sought For Road Improvement

Pickaway County Commissioners Monday approved a resolution to advertise for bids to resurface the Circleville-Groveport Road from Circleville to Route 732.

Bids will be opened July 12. Completion date for the work is Sept. 1.

A public budget hearing has been scheduled July 19 by the commissioners.

A petition for annexation to the village of commercial Point was received by commissioners. Permission was granted to Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to bury a cable under the London-Northern Road.

Present for Monday's meeting were Dick Tootle, chairman of the board of commissioners; Wayne Hines and Charles Morris.

Urge Balance In Ecology Values

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Efforts to clean up air and water "must bring values into balance," participants in a national food and drugs officials meeting were told today.

John E. Barker, director of environmental engineering for the Armo Steel Corp., Middletown, said, "We must overcome as much as we can the harmful effects of our industrial way of life." He added:

"But we cannot let an unreasonable cry of 'clean air and clean water' take away the many hard-won benefits of civilization that have given Americans the highest standard of living and the highest quality of life in the world."

Bodies Found

From Accident A Week Ago

WELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The bodies of two Weirton, W. Va., men whose car plunged into Yellow Creek near here last week were recovered Sunday after the body of one man was seen floating in the water.

The bodies were identified as those of John A. Blackburn, 24, and Richard C. Hillis, 20.

The highway patrol said Blackburn's car had been involved in an accident on Ohio 213 last Thursday, sending the car into the creek.

Blackburn's body was seen floating in the creek and a resident called the patrol. A diver found Hillis' body trapped inside the car.

The car was pulled from the creek by a wrecker.

New Crime Control Planning Concept Slated For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new concept in crime control planning will be presented to representatives from 82 of Ohio's counties by the state Department of Urban Affairs in conferences this week.

Discussions will center on new funding procedures for distribution of more than $20 million in federal Omnibus Crime Control Act funds in Ohio next year.

Those procedures involve the creation of six countywide Regional Planning Units for the state's six largest counties, and four administrative planning districts covering the remaining 82 counties.

Under the administrative plan, each district covering one quarter of the state, will be staffed by roving teams of specialists in law enforcement, courts and corrections from the Department of Urban Affairs in Columbus.

The teams, travelling their districts regularly, will coordinate the use of federal crime fighting money between the various agencies of the crime fighting system.

The purpose of the teams, says Urban Affairs Director Bruce Newman, is to consult with local officials to identify problem areas, assist them in applying for federal funds and monitor their projects after funding.

Funds for individual projects will be allocated on a crime rate to population ratio, with the crime factor receiving twice the weight of population figures.

The concept of regional planning—applicable to Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Summit, Lucas and Montgomery counties—was dealt with in conferences last month.

Under the new program, regional planning districts are eligible for block grants from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Both new plans are designed to attract the most in the way of funds from federal and other sources and to better manage the money once received.

Court Hits South Africa

THE HAGUE (AP) — The International Court of Justice ruled Monday that South Africa's control over South-West Africa is illegal and Prime Minister John Vorster's government should surrender the former German colony immediately to the United Nations.

The court issued an advisory opinion, asked by the U.N., in which 13 justices concurred and one dissented. The opinion carries no legal weight, but it was considered an important element of international pressure on South Africa.

However, the court's ruling was expected to have no immediate effect on South Africa's control of the sparsely populated, mineral-rich territory which South Africa took over as a League of Nations mandate after World War I.

Vorster planned to reply to the court in a broadcast later today.

The United Nations has declared the League of Nations mandate no longer valid, and Secretary-General U Thant has called for an economic boycott of South Africa to enforce demands by black African states that independence be granted to the territory, which has been renamed Namibia by a U.N. vote.

Dear Abby: Can't Be Done Without Help

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me if it is possible for a woman to conceive while she's in the water. I mean in a pool, river or bath?

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: Not without a man.

DEAR ABBY: We had a letter from our son today. It was mostly full of "Who am I? . . . I am me," and all that rot. We are getting pretty fed up with his self-indulgent soul-searching, but we do want to keep in touch with him.

He says he and his girl friend (she lives in his commune) may get married soon.

He also wrote that he may "have to" get a job soon as they are running out of bread, and in the meantime he would appreciate a little more help from home.

Well, that raised the temperature a few degrees around here. Two able-bodied young people should sit on the floor and ask, "Who am I?" while these two square old working parents send them money.

No, I don't think so. What do you think?

LETTER FROM SON

DEAR LETTER: Parents who subsidize kids away from home are helping those kids continue whatever it is they are doing—or not doing. No parent wants his child to starve, but the surest way to get a child to earn his own bread is to quit sending him dough.

DEAR ABBY: You recently had a letter from a woman whose boy friend told her he was not the marrying kind. Well after she had lent him quite a large sum of money he upped and married somebody else, so she took him to court to get her money back and lost the case. You said, "A gift is just a gift, and a loan without an IOU may as well be a gift."

Abby, an IOU doesn't mean a thing if all it states is that you lent somebody a certain amount of money. To merely acknowledge a debt is not a promise to pay. In order for a note to hold up in court it has to state that a certain amount of money must be paid to the bearer of the note either on demand or by a certain date.

ALABAMA LAW STUDENT DEAR LAW STUDENT: And IOU a great big thanks for writing!

DEAR ABBY: I vowed that the next time a letter appeared from a widow complaining that her "friends" have abandoned her, I would ask you to ask her a simple question: "When your husband was alive, did YOU invite widows and other single women to parties and dinners? Or did you think of them only when your husband was out of town, or occupied elsewhere?" As far as I'm concerned, there is no more selfish or thoughtless group of persons than married women "when it comes to unattached women. But with unattached MEN, that's a different story. An "extra" man is always welcome.

PLEASE tell widows and other single women to forget about married friends, because they have certainly forgotten about HER.

Seas Well Stocked

United Nations science experts from 18 countries have concluded that the oceans not only are ripe for exploration and development, but contain enough minerals to supply man's needs for at least a century. All that is needed to tap the reserves is the heavy investment required for undersea mining.

Even so, the experts found "a pattern of technological feasibility and profitability is emerging, especially for the petroleum industry." Undersea wells now produce about 17 per cent of the world's crude oil, and by the end of this decade are expected to produce more than a third of it.

More than $7 billion worth of minerals were produced from the sea in 1969. That is only a small drop of the resources waiting at the bottom of a mighty big bucket.

U.S. RELEASES SEIZED SOVIET FREIGHTER—Soon after a federal judge ruled that the vessel had nothing to do with the New England lobster "war," the Soviet lumber freighter Suleyman Stalsky heads down the Alameda Estuary for San Francisco Bay and the open sea toward Japan. According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think you are as young as you feel, you're only kidding yourself. What is more often true is this—you're as old as other people decide.

They won't let you stay young.

It isn't simply the passing years that make a man finally and inevitably old. It is the opinion of his friends and critics. It is their collective verdict that thrusts him kicking and screaming into his wheelchair whether he feels ready for it or not.

The world's campaign to make a man old usually begins when he turns 60, and the pressure is stepped up every year thereafter. If you have passed your 60th birthday, here are a few signs to beware:

No matter how bad you feel, everyone assures you that you never looked better.

The boss gives you a token merit raise, but gives to a younger man a bigger merit raise—and the promotion you wanted.

The gang at the office water cooler breaks up when you approach for fear that you will launch into a long-winded reminiscence.

The office gossip of the day reaches you tomorrow.

An ailing coworker turns to you first for help because everyone knows that your desk is locked with more kinds of medicine than the average pharmacy.

It turns into a race whether your hair will be all white or all gone by the time you are 65.

If your wife dies and you re-

marry a woman under 40, you are regarded as "an old fool."

If you still like to chuck a pretty stenographer under the chin—just as you did 25 years ago—you are now referred to as having become "a dirty old man."

Friends profess amazement that you still like to play a little tennis, but then ask, "don't you think it's pretty risky now— at your age?"

Everyone suggests that you should begin to take things easy and not to put any unusual strain on yourself. This makes you wonder now and then if it isn't something of a victory when you cross the street unaided.

You are not expected by young people to say anything either subtle or important. Your remarks, by their reckoning, are one-third age and two-thirds senile.

What can you do about this insidious aging process by other people? You can do nothing at all about it, not even if you find the fabled Fountain of Youth and take a swig from it 10 times a day.

When the world decides it is high time for you to be old, it usually works its will, whether you are glad or sad about it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN AMATEUR gardener, seeking some free advice from a veteran Scottish horticulturist, demanded, "What would you suggest my planting in a spot that gets very little rain because of overhanging eaves, has too much afternoon sun, and has too many rocks in the soil?" "Well," answered the Scotsman, "how about a nice flag-pole?"

Mr. Golding's rage knew no bounds when he discovered that his always extravagant wife had purchased a pedigreed Afghan hound for $800. He had his own way of informing his friends of this latest dent in his bank account. "Well, boys," he informed his poker cronies before the weekly game began, "I come here from the most expensive condominium in Miami Beach." "Why there? You can't afford it," he was told. "I had to," explained Mr. Golding. "Our Afghan sublet the penthouse there."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My feet become swollen as the day progresses. At night I can push the skin in almost half an inch.

When I wake up in the morning, the swelling is gone. Is this a serious condition?

Mrs. P. M. N., Va.
Dear Mrs. N.: Such swelling of the ankle and the feet need not be a serious condition, but certainly its cause should be found by complete physical examination.

"Pitting edema," or swelling of the legs, may be caused by simple or by complicated conditions.

Varicose veins or marked overweight, especially in people who stand on their feet all day, can cause this type of swelling.

It is also true that people who have chronic heart disease and kidney disease may have edema which is more persistent and does not vary as much during different parts of the day.

You are doing yourself a great injustice if you continue to worry about the condition without actually doing anything to pinpoint its exact cause.

I work at a drill press alongside six other people. Almost every day one of the men cuts his hand or gets into some kind of accident.

We know it's because he gets nervous. How can we advise him what to do? One day he's going to hurt himself for real.

Mr. H. G., Mont.
Dear Mr. G.: You have made a very wise observation in noting that your co-worker tends to have accidents when he is tense and upset.

Psychologists have recognized for a long time that some people have more than their rightful share of accidents and are considered "accident prone."

In industry this can present a real hazard, not only to the person himself but to those with whom he works.

Millions of dollars are lost to workers and their employers by preventable accidents that are classed as "emotionally provoked."

Large organizations today have guidance counselors for their workers trying to help them toward better understanding of reasons for emotional concern.

Trained psychologists invite such tense people to discuss their problems openly so that those who are accident prone can reduce the risk to themselves and their co-workers.

If yours is a small organization or one where such services are not provided, you might during lunch or coffee break, when you are alone with your co-worker, gently get around to discussing the problem, without embarrassing him.

You may find him receptive and grateful for your suggestion that he discuss his problem with his own doctor to find out how to reduce his tensions.

Despite medical education, fraud and quackery take millions of dollars out of the pockets of the American people.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, June 22, the 173rd day of 1971. There are 192 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date:
In 1812, France declared war on Russia.

In 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte was forced to abdicate for the second time.

In 1870, the U.S. Department of Justice was created by an act of Congress.

In 1911, King George V of Britain and Queen Mary were crowned in Westminster Abbey in London.

In 1937, Joe Louis knocked out James J. Braddock in the eighth round in a fight in Chicago and became the world heavyweight champion.

In 1962, the Soviet Union cast its 100th veto in the United Nations Security Council, supporting India against Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

Ten years ago: Ambassador Adlai Stevenson returned from a South American tour to report to President John F. Kennedy and help the administration reshape its Latin American policies.

Five years ago: President Charles de Gaulle of France, who was on a visit to the Soviet Union, spoke of a "new alliance" between the two nations.

One year ago: President Nixon signed a bill lowering the federal voting age from 21 to 18.

Fifty-eight per cent of British homes had refrigerators last year, compared with 47 per cent in 1967.

Apartheid

By JEFFERY HART

SAN DIEGO — While visiting this branch of the University of California for a speaking engagement, I wandered through the bookstore that serves the controversial so-called Third College, a separate division created a couple of years ago to educate minority students: Negro, Chicano, Oriental, Indian. Established under the purest of liberal auspices, the Third College now fashioned social segregation, but something altogether novel: intellectual apartheid.

Physically segregated in their Third College, the hapless minority students are being fed a program seemingly designed to foster hatred of whites, of America and of Western civilization generally. That the California taxpayer is footing the bill for all this merely compounds the absurdity.

Guess what authors appear, for example, on the reading list for the course in Third World Studies, which supposedly acquaints the students with their "cultural heritage"? Well, there is a "Handbook on the War in Asia"; "We hope this booklet will be used by those committed as we are to ending America's military involvement in Southeast Asia . . . In view of the intensified genocidal activities of the U.S. against oppressed peoples internationally and nationally and locally . . ."

That's from the Preface. Then the "curriculum" goes forward with Ho Chi Minh, "On Revolution"; Kwame Nkrumah, "Neo-Imperialism"; and "The Last Stage of Colonialism"; Juan Jose Arevalo, "The Shark and the Sardines," a vitriolic denunciation of supposed U.S. imperialism in Latin America; "Venceremos!"; Speeches and Writings of Che, edited by John Gerassi; "G.I. Diary," by a black who denounces the war and indicts U.S. racism; Juan Bosch, "Pentagonism"; Jaicé, "Pillage of the Third World"; Barraclough, "Introduction to Modern History," with heavy stress on imperialism. Three titles are more or less neutral politically. And there is Barry Goldwaters' "Why Not Victory?" — clearly added for laughs.

Now you don't need preternaturally sensitive olfactory equipment to smell a mouse here. As one student on the regular campus commented: "What is being taught here is a grudge, a lust for revenge."

All of a sudden the definition of Third World implicit in this reading list hits you like a ton of bricks. Who, for example, is missing from that list? Conspicuous by their absence are the speeches and observations of those leaders who might have a good word to say for the U.S. — Premier Sato of Japan, say; or Indira Gandhi, President Marcos of the Philippines, President Caldera of Venezuela, President Mobutu of the Congo, the leaders of Taiwan, Thailand, Cambodia, Indonesia, or Nigeria. The leaders, that is, of some billion Third World people, if the term Third World means anything at all.

In what sense, moreover, does that list acquaint a minority student with his "cultural heritage"? All of the books are very recent, most of them published during the last decade. The authors are mostly Marxists, whose ideology has European roots. It is a little hard, to say the least, to see how such works could acquaint the student at the Third College with his own cultural past, Indian, Spanish or whatever.

You will notice another thing. Though the Third World, as it actually exists, does contain a number of democracies such as Japan and India, the heroes of the Third College reading list are mostly dictators or sympathetic to dictatorship. And that though the actual Third World contains mixed and even capitalist economies, everybody on the reading list, just about, is a socialist; and that though a variety of attitudes toward the U.S. exist in the actual Third World, the heroes of the reading list are consumed with hatred for the U.S. You begin to see the point.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman
CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

The Vietnam controversy came to the legislative floor last Wednesday when Congress began floor debate on several so-called "end the war amendments." In the Senate an amendment to the Selective Service Act was offered barring the use of funds to support U.S. forces in Indochina after June 1, 1971, if American POW's are released 60 days prior to that date. This was defeated by a vote of 44 yeas to 52 nays.

The second attempt was the McGovern-Hatfield Amendment to cut off monies for U.S. forces in Indochina after December 30, 1971 which lost, 42 yeas to 53 nays.

The following day, the House considered the so-called Nedzi Whalen Amendment to the Military Procurement Authorization Bill which would have prohibited the expenditure of funds in support of U.S. military operations in Indochina after January 1, 1972. This proposal, which I voted against, was defeated on a record vote. I opposed this provision because President Nixon is already rapidly winding down the war, and I believe that the President should have more flexibility than the amendment would have allowed.

On Monday, the House will begin eight hours' debate on H.R. 1. This started out as a bill to amend the Social Security Act. It would provide a five per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

The real purpose of the bill was to provide for the financing of a thirty per cent increase in Social Security benefits over the past two years. There is an increase in employer and employee contributions provided for in the bill.

The bill really became controversial when the so-called Welfare Reform Bill or the Family Assistance Plan was attached to it. There is much controversy over the fact that the Family Assistance Plan contains a guaranteed annual income provision. The Chairman of the House Rules Committee, Mr. Colmer, is opposed to the Welfare Reform portion of the bill and would not bring H.R. 1 up for consideration for granting a rule for House debate until it was agreed that the Social Security provisions would be considered separately from the Welfare Reform provision.

Usually, a bill which comes from the House Ways and Means Committee comes out in the form of, what is known as, a closed rule, which simply means that no amendments to the bill can be considered on the Floor. You must either vote yes or no on the package. In this case, no amendments will be permitted on the Floor but one can vote yes or no on the Social Security amendments and then have a separate vote on the Welfare Reform provisions.

The Veterans Affairs Committee, of which I am a member, is trying to help solve the problem of employment for recently discharged veterans. In contrast to the veterans of past wars, these men face increased difficulties resulting from their lack of hero status, youth, large numbers and unfavorable publicity concerning drug addiction. Paradoxically, these veterans are better educated than those of past wars. The youngest group age 20-24, is experiencing the highest rate of unemployment.

The Administration has a growing and continuing concern for the problems of Vietnam veterans. In order to make the public aware of the difficulties faced by veterans, President Nixon created the Jobs for Veterans Committee in November, 1970. This Committee has demonstrated some success in involving the business community in helping the veterans. Last week President Nixon directed James D. Hodgson, Secretary of Labor, to accelerate the work of his department with reference to this problem. The Departments of Labor and Defense are expanding their existing "on the job training programs" and "transition program" with the purpose of helping the veterans.

In addition, the Veterans' Administration is expanding its Veterans Advisor Service Program. If ever a young man deserved all the help we can give him, it is the Vietnam veteran.

Several constituents, particularly from the rural areas, have contacted me concerning recent farm truck regulations. I am pleased to note that the Department of Transportation has adopted a new regulation which will allow 18-year-olds to operate farm trucks. This is a specific exemption to the Department of Transportation's proposed regulations which imposed a 21-year age minimum on truck drivers. I had corresponded with Secretary Volpe supporting farmers in my area who had written asking for this exemption.

Seas Well Stocked

United Nations science experts from 18 countries have concluded that the oceans not only are ripe for exploration and development, but contain enough minerals to supply man's needs for at least a century. All that is needed to tap the reserves is the heavy investment required for undersea mining.

Even so, the experts found "a pattern of technological feasibility and profitability is emerging, especially for the petroleum industry." Undersea wells now produce about 17 per cent of the world's crude oil, and by the end of this decade are expected to produce more than a third of it.

More than $7 billion worth of minerals were produced from the sea in 1969. That is only a small drop of the resources waiting at the bottom of a mighty big bucket.

U.S. RELEASES SEIZED SOVIET FREIGHTER—Soon after a federal judge ruled that the vessel had nothing to do with the New England lobster "war," the Soviet lumber freighter Suleyman Stalsky heads down the Alameda Estuary for San Francisco Bay and the open sea toward Japan. A Massachusetts lobsterman's damage suit had kept the Soviet ship in port for six days.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think you are as young as you feel, you're only kidding yourself. What is more often true is this—you're as old as other people decide.

They won't let you stay young.

It isn't simply the passing years that make a man finally and inevitably old. It is the opinion of his friends and critics. It is their collective verdict that thrusts him kicking and screaming into the wheelchair whether he feels ready for it or not.

The world's campaign to make a man old usually begins when he turns 60, and the pressure is stepped up every year thereafter. If you have passed your 60th birthday, here are a few signs to beware:

No matter how bad you feel, everyone assures you that you never looked better.

The boss gives you a token merit raise, but gives to a younger man a bigger merit raise—and the promotion you wanted.

The gang at the office water cooler breaks up when you approach for fear that you will launch into a long-winded reminiscence.

The office gossip of the day reaches you tomorrow.

An ailing coworker turns to you first for help because everyone knows that your desk is locked with more kinds of medicine than the average pharmacy.

It turns into a race whether your hair will be all white or all gone by the time you are 65.

If your wife dies and you re-

marry a woman under 40, you are regarded as "an old fool."

If you still like to chuck a pretty stenographer under the chin—just as you did 25 years ago—you are now referred to as having become "a dirty old man."

Friends profess amazement that you still like to play a little tennis, but then ask, "don't you think it's pretty risky now—at your age?"

Everyone suggests that you should begin to take things easy and not to put any unusual strain on yourself. This makes you wonder now and then if it isn't something of a victory when you cross the street unaided.

You are not expected by young people to say anything either subtle or important. Your remarks, by their reckoning, are one-third age and two-thirds senile.

What can you do about this insidious aging process by other people? You can do nothing at all about it, not even if you find the fabled Fountain of Youth and take a swig from it 10 times a day.

When the world decides it is high time for you to be old, it usually works its will, whether you are glad or sad about it.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Barker, who plays ornate practical jokes almost every day for a living, can depend on landing in the Nielsen top 10 list twice a year. Few, if any other, game show hosts have that kind of security.

Barker's experience during 15 years as host, shepherd and soother of nervous studio contestants led to his five years as host, shepherd and soother of nervous beauties in May's "Miss U.S.A." and July "Miss Universe" beauty contests. Each one of these pageants attract between 40 million and 50 million television viewers.

The jobs add some $15,000 to $80,000 a year to Barker's income and appear to be as effortless as reading a paperback novel. They aren't. Barker, a handsome, outgoing fellow, was in New York briefly during a tour to publicize the "Miss Universe" broadcast on CBS July 24.

"It's not like being an actor," he said. "If I were given a script to learn each week, I doubt if I'd be able to make much of a living."

He appears to have gravitated to his specialty like metal to a magnet. He worked on various radio stations in assorted jobs until 1950 when he and his wife, Dorothy Jo, decided to tackle Hollywood. A week later he had his own show on a small radio station, followed quickly by his first television assignment, a local talent show.

Ralph Edwards happened to tune in the Barker show on his car radio at a time when he was looking for someone to host his long-playing "Truth or Consequences." Bob recently completed taping his 4,000th "Truth or Consequences" half hour.

The daytime program was dropped by a network but Edwards decided to carry it on by selling it to individual stations. "The main thing," he said, "is to hold things together and let the other people get the attention. It's really a variation of the straight man's role."

New Names Hit Highway Map

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

When Ohio's new 1971 highway map comes out this July, there will be 25 new names on it.

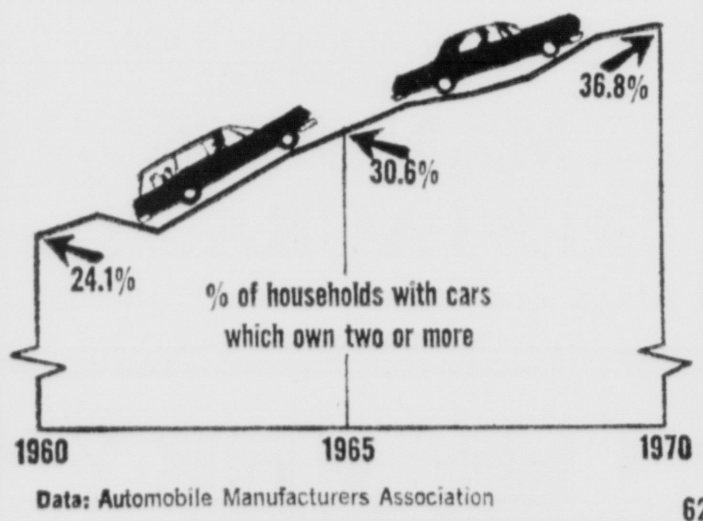

Officials at the Ohio Department of Highways say the number of additions — all unincorporated hamlets — are the greatest in several years.

The new towns are located in 12 of the state's 88 counties. Seven of the additions are from Adams County alone.

The smallest is believed to be Knockemstiff in Ross County southwest of Chillicothe with a population of 50.

HOW "TWO-CAR" FAMILIES ARE INCREASING

By CARL H. MADDEN, CHIEF ECONOMIST
Chamber of Commerce of the United States
FIFTY MILLION FAMILIES in the United States—four out of five — own at least one automobile, making us the greatest car-owning nation in the world. Of these families with cars, more than a third, or 36.8 per cent, owned two or more in 1970, compared with less than 25 per cent in 1960. As might be expected, the single most important economic reason for multiple car ownership is higher family income, usually associated with prosperous times. (The only drop in "two-car families" in the past decade—from 25.3 to 24.8 per cent—occurred in a recession year, 1962. Also, the smallest rise—only 0.3 per cent—came during the 1969-70 business slowdown.) Other significant factors in the upward trend have been the move to the suburbs, the increase in working wives, and the teen-age "explosion."

GUITARIST TERRY COOK

Former Circleville Boy Makes Mark In Music Field

By MICHELE HULSE
Herald Staff Writer

The music world has a former Circleville resident "stringing along" with it, and doing quite well.

Opportunities in the area of his specialty — midway between pop and Country and Western — "kinda like Glen Campbell style" are opening their doors to Terry Cook.

Cook moved from Circleville to Vincent, in the southeastern section of Ohio, and has made a reputation for himself, with his poetry, songs and guitar playing.

The youth performed here with a group known as the "Golden Harvest Band," playing at the Sidewalk Sale and the entertainment nights at the Clifton Theatre. Other members were Rick and John McLaughlin and Gary Hammond.

A JUNIOR in high school, young Cook began his training on the guitar here in Circleville under the informal tutelage of his friend Rich McLaughlin, from whose family, "strumming" is an art handed down from generation to generation.

Before moving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, last August, Cook and friend Rick created a song, "Tomorrow," which has earned him distinction. Performed by McLaughlin at the 1970 Pumpkin Show, it earned second place in a contest. The words and music are copyrighted now and Cook has several more songs created. One, entitled "New World," he claims follows closely the sentiments of "Tomorrow," relating his interest in freedom and his belief that youth today are trying for freedom in the world. He wrote a tribute to the 1971 graduates of his school, "Goodbye, Seniors," and authored the song, "Friends," in which he states, "Man can't live without friends," and "It is hard to be a good friend."

To further his way in the music field, Cook accepts bookings at many places and enters contests in Ohio and West Virginia. He is an active performer at his high school, including a take-off of television's "Hee-Haw" for a specialty act, with Cook as Buck Owens.

In his busy schedule, Cook also manages a pop group from around Vincent, called "Ecstasy." He appeared on television in Parkersburg, W. Va., singing "Tomorrow" and Ed Ames' popular, "Love of the Common People." He has an audition scheduled later this month for a Huntington television program, and will perform July 12 at a drive-in theater, the Cowbell, near Vincent. He will be one of several acts performing on the theatre's Monday evening specialty night.

Terry believes that music, more than anything else, is the universal language of mankind. He hopes to make music his career. He is trying to get a music scholarship but says, "Even if I don't get a scholarship, I plan to go to some kind of music school."

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have a chance to modernize important daily routines so that your life will be more up-to-date and efficient. Streamline all your activities.

ARIS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Associates are willing to go along with some computerized plan you have to present if you give them a strong sales pitch. A good evening to repay a social debt. Extravagance must be avoided, though.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Higher-ups want you to be more alert to whatever is going on outside interests, so do this. Handle that civic matter well. Being sarcastic, especially with bigwigs, could prove bad for you now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your ideas are excellent but they require more study before being put in operation. Letters bring you right suggestions from those afar. Handle personal correspondence in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) By mediating you can get the intuitive answers you need to perplexing problems you may have. You are tempted to argue with mate, but it is best not to. Resort to reason.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You now can understand what associates desire in mutual alliance, so accept only those views that appeal to you. Not a good day for seeking reconciliations with anyone. Await a better day for this.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Ideal day to get into that backlog of work that has been accumulating; clear it up quickly and satisfactorily. Make changes in your wardrobe so that it is more attractive and up-to-date. Take your rightful place in the scheme of things.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An unexpected opportunity arises for amusements that is good to accept instead of trying to figure out what to do today. Make sure to get that creative talent working also. Try not to go to bed too late tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you buy those new appliances for the home, you will please your family greatly. Avoid those subjects that are apt to bring up heated discussions. Strive for greater harmony.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to contact clever persons who have the right information to make some cherished dream come true. See what has to be done to be more productive in the future. Don't be excitable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A new interest can bring in extra income now. Do something to improve the value of any real estate you may own.

Use your intuition for right results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Out to a social event for a delightful time with people you like. Do whatever will make you look attractive and others will be delighted. Stop being so easy with others; stand up for your rights.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have to operate on a more modern line if you are to have the increased success you want. If you follow what experts say, you can make excellent plans. Channel your energies in one direction and win.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Barker, who plays ornate practical jokes almost every day for a living, can depend on landing in the Nielsen top 10 list twice a year. Few, if any other, game show hosts have that kind of security.

Barker's experience during 15 years as host, shepherd and scotch of nervous studio contestants on "Truth or Consequences" led to his five years as host, shepherd and scotch of nervous beauties in May's "Miss U.S.A." and July "Miss Universe" beauty contests. Each one of these pageants attract between 40 million and 50 million television viewers.

The jobs add some $15,000 to $80,000 a year to Barker's income and appear to be as effective as reading a paperback novel. They aren't. Barker, a handsome, outgoing fellow, was in New York briefly during a tour to publicize the "Miss Universe" broadcast on CBS July 24.

"It's not like being an actor," he said. "If I were given a script to learn each week, I doubt if I'd be able to make much of a living."

He appears to have gravitated to his specialty like metal to a magnet. He worked on various radio stations in assorted jobs until 1950 when he and his wife, Dorothy Jo, decided to tackle Hollywood-cold. A week later he had his own show on a small radio station, followed quickly by his first television assignment, a local talent show.

Ralph Edwards happened to tune in the Barker show on his car radio at a time when he was looking for someone to host his long-playing "Truth or Consequences." Bob recently completed taping his 4,000th "Truth or Consequences" half hour.

The daytime program was dropped by a network but Edwards decided to carry it on by selling it to individual stations.

"The main thing," he said, "is to hold things together and let the other people get the attention. It's really a variation of the straight man's role."

New Names Hit Highway Map

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When Ohio's new 1971 highway map comes out this July, there will be 25 new names on it.

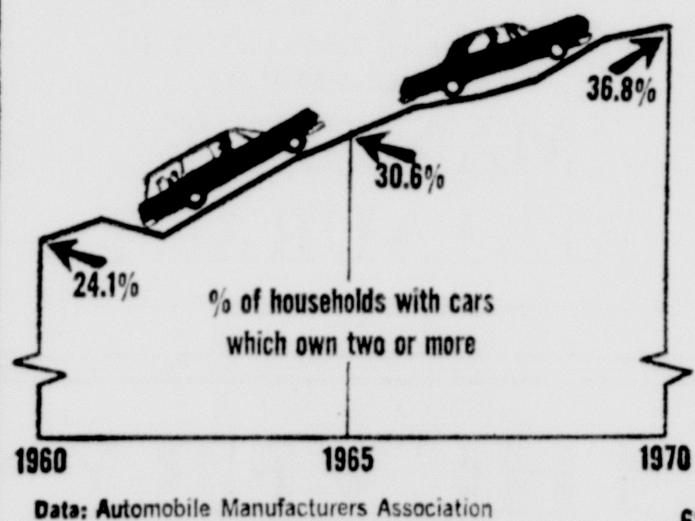

Officials at the Ohio Department of Highways say the number of additions — all unincorporated hamlets — are the greatest in several years.

The new towns are located in 12 of the state's 88 counties. Seven of the additions are from Adams County alone.

The smallest is believed to be Knockemstiff in Ross County southwest of Chillicothe with a population of 50.

HOW "TWO-CAR" FAMILIES ARE INCREASING

By CARL H. MADDEN, CHIEF ECONOMIST
Chamber of Commerce of the United States
FIFTY MILLION FAMILIES in the United States—four out of five — own at least one automobile, making us the greatest car-owning nation in the world. Of these families with cars, more than a third, or 36.8 per cent, owned two or more in 1970, compared with less than 25 per cent in 1960. As might be expected, the single most important economic reason for multiple car ownership is higher family income, usually associated with prosperous times. (The only drop in "two-car families" in the past decade—from 25.3 to 24.8 per cent—occurred in a recession year, 1962. Also, the smallest rise—only 0.3 per cent—came during the 1969-70 business slowdown.) Other significant factors in the upward trend have been the move to the suburbs, the increase in working wives, and the teen-age "explosion."

GUITARIST TERRY COOK

Former Circleville Boy Makes Mark In Music Field

By MICHELE HULSE
Herald Staff Writer

The music world has a former Circleville resident "stringing along" with it, and doing quite well.

Opportunities in the area of his specialty — midway between pop and Country and Western — "kinda like Glen Campbell style" are opening their doors to Terry Cook.

Cook moved from Circleville to Vincent, in the southeastern section of Ohio, and has made a reputation for himself, with his poetry, songs and guitar playing.

The youth performed here with a group known as the "Golden Harvest Band," playing at the Sidewalk Sale and the entertainment nights at the Clifton Theatre. Other members were Rick and John McLaughlin and Gary Hammond.

A JUNIOR in high school, young Cook began his training on the guitar here in Circleville under the informal tutelage of his friend Rich McLaughlin, from whose family, "strumming" is an art handed down from generation to generation.

Before moving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, last August, Cook and friend Rick created a song, "Tomorrow," which has earned him distinction. Performed by McLaughlin at the 1970 Pumpkin Show, it earned second place in a contest. The words and music are copyrighted now and Cook has several more songs created. One, entitled "New World," he claims follows closely the sentiments of "Tomorrow," relating his interest in freedom and his belief that youth today are trying for freedom in the world. He wrote a tribute to the 1971 graduates of his school, "Goodbye, Seniors," and authored the song, "Friends," in which he states, "Man can't live without friends," and "It is hard to be a good friend."

To further his way in the music field, Cook accepts bookings at many places and enters contests in Ohio and West Virginia. He is an active performer at his high school, including a take-off of television's "Hee-Haw" for a specialty act, with Cook as Buck Owens.

In his busy schedule, Cook also manages a pop group from around Vincent, called "Ecstasy." He appeared on television in Parkersburg, W. Va., singing "Tomorrow" and Ed Ames' popular, "Love of the Common People." He has an audition scheduled later this month for a Huntington television program, and will perform July 12 at a drive-in theater, the Cowbell, near Vincent. He will be one of several acts performing on the theatre's Monday evening specialty night.

Terry believes that music, more than anything else, is the universal language of mankind. He hopes to make music his career. He is trying to get a music scholarship but says, "Even if I don't get a scholarship, I plan to go to some kind of music school."

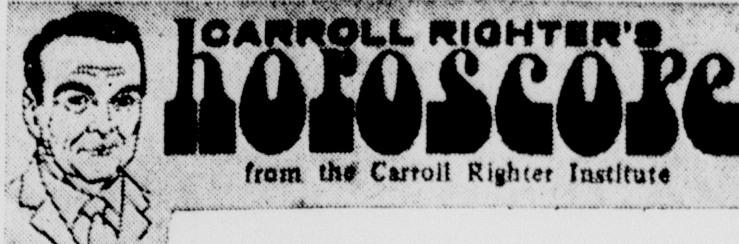

Some of the immediate effects of smoking marijuana are reddening of the whites of the eyes, an increased heart rate, and a cough due to the irritating effect of the smoke on the lungs. These are the most frequent and consistent physical effects. Hunger or sleepiness are reported by some individuals.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have a chance to modernize important daily routines so that your life will be more up-to-date and efficient. Streamline all your activities.

ARIS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Associates are willing to go along with some computerized plan you have to present if you give them a strong sales pitch. A good evening to repay a social debt. Extravagance must be avoided, though.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Higher-ups want you to be more alert to whatever is going on outside interests, so do this. Handle that civic matter well. Being sarcastic, especially with bigwigs, could prove bad for you now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Your ideas are excellent but they require more study before being put in operation. Letters bring you right suggestions from those afar. Handle personal correspondence in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): By mediating you can get the intuitive answers you need to perplexing problems you may have. You are tempted to argue with mate, but it is best not to. Resort to reason.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You now can understand what associates desire in mutual alliance, so accept only those views that appeal to you. Not a good day for seeking reconciliations with anyone. Await a better day for this.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Ideal day to get into that backlog of work that has been accumulating; clear it up quickly and satisfactorily. Make changes in your wardrobe so that it is more attractive and up-to-date. Take your rightful place in the scheme of things.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): An unexpected opportunity arises for amusements that is good to accept instead of trying to figure out what to do today. Make sure to get that creative talent working also. Try not to go to bed too late tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you buy those new appliances for the home, you will please your family greatly. Avoid those subjects that are apt to bring up heated discussions. Strive for greater harmony.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Ideal day to contact clever persons who have the right information to make some cherished dream come true. See what has to be done to be more productive in the future. Don't be excitable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A new interest can bring in extra income now. Do something to improve the value of any real estate you may own.

Use your intuition for right results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Out to a social event for a delightful time with people you like. Do whatever will make you look attractive and others will be delighted. Stop being so easy with others; stand up for your rights.

Miss Patricia Lu Weethee Bride Of Daniel Overly

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL FREDERICK OVERLY

Pontious United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Patricia Lu Weethee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weethee, 201 Nicholas Drive, and Mr. Daniel Frederick Overly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Overly, Route 3, Saturday, June 5th.

The Rev. Liston Halley performed the double ring ceremony 6:30 p.m. before the altar adorned with vases of gladioli, Killian daisies and crystal pom-poms. Candelabra were placed at either side and white satin bows marked the pews.

A half-hour of music preceded the ceremony played by organist, Mrs. Paul Drummond, who also accompanied Rev. Halley as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline enhanced with sequins, and full length lace sleeves ending in bridal points. A deep ruffle encircled the bouffant full length skirt and tiers of graduated lace flowed down the back. A brief lace cap held the bride's veil of French illusion edged with Chantilly lace and continuing into chapel length. She carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses, miniature carnations and lily of the valley backed with ivory tulle and streamers tied in lover's knots.

Miss Terri Weethee served her sister as maid of honor in a yellow dotted Swiss full length gown trimmed in lace and featuring brief puffed sleeves. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Stephen Thomas and Miss Debbie Leasure were gowned as the honor attendant in lavender and green respectively. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of

Church Class Has Program On Japan

Willing Workers Class of Pontious United Methodist Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Floy Brobst, Route 5.

Mrs. Ethel Klingensmith opened the meeting with prayer. The poem "A Thankful Heart" was read by Mrs. Robert Brobst and members sang "In The Garden."

For devotions Mrs. Walter Richards read Luke 24:28-35 and her theme was "God And I Have An Understanding." She presented the readings "Pray On," "Wool Merchants Testimony" and "Golden Nuggets Of Salvation."

A brief business session was conducted by vice president, Mrs. Robert Brobst.

Mrs. Lucille Woods presented a program about Japan. She told of her experiences while living there, the costumes they wear and showed many interesting items made and used by the Japanese.

Refreshments were served to the nine members present by Mrs. Brobst and Mrs. Cecile Palm.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Larry Goodman, Route 2, Amanda.

1927 Class Reunites

Saltcreek High School Class of 1927 held a reunion recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Koch, Jefferson Addition. Following dinner games and reminiscing occupied the evening. Prizes were won by all with the door prize awarded to Mrs. Emmitt Goodman and the booby prize to Mrs. Koch.

During the brief business meeting Mrs. Laurence Bensonhaver was elected president with Mrs. Della Wertman to serve as secretary - treasurer. Next year the reunion will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh.

Present for the evening were Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, Eldon Armstrong, Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Fatherolf and son Wilber, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bensonhaver, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Koch and daughter, Mrs. Della Wertman and the hosts.

Republican Women Set Luncheon Meet

On Monday Pickaway County Women's Republican Club will be the invited guests of club members from the New Holland area, who will serve as hostesses for this special day.

Place for the carry-in luncheon will be at noon in the New Holland United Methodist Church social rooms.

Club business will be brought up to date with reports from the recent membership drive made and the welcoming of all new members. Current events will be a topic for the discussion period.

will soon enter Electronics School.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Chillicothe, New Holland, Columbus, Westerville, Clarksburg, Washington C.H., Cincinnati, Springfield and Ashville. Special guests were Mrs. Chester Monroe of Circleville, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Clifford Overly, Route 1, Clarksburg, grandmother of the bridegroom.

MISS SHIRLEY DOWDEN

Mrs. Ankrom Hosts Circle

Mrs. Marie Goodman presented the program for the June meeting of Circle 2, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. George Ankrom, 131 Hayward Ave. Attending were 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Clifford Davis.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, leader, conducted the meeting, opening with the reading, "The Story Our Shoes Tell Us." Theme for the devotions was "Pray For Faith In God, Not Things." Scripture reading was from Matthew, chapter 7 verse 16. Silent prayer was held for special areas of need.

Members were reminded that the School of Missions will be held at Westerville, July 9-16. Reservations may be made with Miss Lucille Kirkwood.

It was announced that a trip to the Otterbein Home is being planned for the near future. Discussion was held on several projects being planned for general circle activities.

Mrs. Goodman's program topic was "Cuba — Risk And Reality." Mrs. Clydus Leist read a general background of the country. Mrs. Goodman read a review of the problems and conflicts faced daily by the people of the country and the effects these conflicts leave behind them.

Mrs. Ankrom, Mrs. Harold Baker and Mrs. Hazel Merz, representing women from different walks of life, told of their reactions and attitudes toward the revolutionary conflicts in their country as each works for a solution. As a teacher, a mother with small children and a pediatrician with teen-age children, each told what it means to be a Christian in Cuba. Mrs. R. E. Nau completed the program with prayer.

The next meeting will be in the Service Center with Mrs. Edna McLaughlin as hostess. Mrs. David Steele will be program leader.

Mrs. Davis assisted the hostess in serving refreshments following the meeting.

Girl Scouts To Study At COSI In Columbus

The Center of Science and Industry, 280 E. Broad St., Columbus, and the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council are combining forces June 14-18 in a joint effort to give Girl Scouts a chance to learn something about various historical crafts or about the sciences, especially as pertains to badge work for Cadettes and Juniors.

Brownies, accompanied by their leaders, are having a chance to do some simple scientific experiments and discover some surprises by looking through a microscope. One hundred and seven Brownies have registered for this new adventure.

Classes for Junior and Cadette Scouts are being conducted by the professional staff of the Center, assisted by nine Senior Girl Scouts who are museum aides. Activities will be in the fields of earth sciences — astronomy, meteorology and geology; physical sciences, including photography; life sciences, including first aid and human health, as well as general studies of the plant and animal kingdoms; historical crafts — a variety of arts such as stenciling, weaving, block printing, spinning and textile decoration.

The historical crafts section seems to be the most popular, according to the registration figures, with sciences of earth and life nearly tying for second place, and life sciences trailing with 12 registrants.

This event is an annual opportunity which COSI has made available to Girl Scouts for the last several years. It gives non-members of the Center a chance to see and use the facilities and have at least a nodding acquaintance with the wonders of science and history. This year 225 Girl Scouts are taking advantage of this opportunity.

Girls from the Circleville Logan Trails Service Unit who are participating in the COSI opportunity are Amy Curtiss, 505 Lawnwood Court; Carolyn Tammany, Route 3, Knollwood Village; Kelly Spence, 424 Holiday Lane, and Kathryn and Linda Fisher, 431 Holiday Lane.

Mrs. Jim Ullman To Speak At Church

Mrs. Jim Ullman will speak and show films 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Morris United Methodist Church.

Her subject will be on the campus area and children of the Mission School at Southwest Indian School, Glendale, Ariz., where she visited as a member of the Crusade from World Gospel Service.

Miss Patricia Lu Weethee Bride Of Daniel Overly

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL FREDERICK OVERLY

Pontious United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Patricia Lu Weethee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weethee, 201 Nicholas Drive, and Mr. Daniel Frederick Overly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Overly, Route 3, Saturday, June 5th.

The Rev. Liston Halley performed the double ring ceremony 6:30 p.m. before the altar adorned with vases of gladioli, Killian daisies and crystal pom-poms. Candelabra were placed at either side and white satin bows marked the pews.

A half-hour of music preceded the ceremony played by organist, Mrs. Paul Drummond, who also accompanied Rev. Halley as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline enhanced with sequins, and full length lace sleeves ending in bridal puffs. A deep ruffle encircled the bouffant full length skirt and tiers of graduated lace flowed down the back. A bride's veil of French illusion edged with Chantilly lace and continuing into chapel length. She carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses, miniature carnations and lily of the valley backed with ivory tulle and streamers tied in lover's knots.

Miss Terri Weethee served her sister as maid of honor in a yellow dotted Swiss full length gown trimmed in lace and featuring brief puffed sleeves. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Stephen Thomas and Miss Debbie Leasure were gown as the honor attendant in lavender and green respectively. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of multi-colored mums and forget-me-nots tied with white satin ribbon falling in streamers. Flower girl was Darlene Weethee, in a yellow dotted Swiss dress similar to the bridesmaids and carrying a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Michael Overly performed the duties of best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Richard Overly, brother of the groom and Mr. Norman Weethee II, brother of the bride. Mrs. Weethee was attired in a pale blue sleeveless dress with white lace trim, white accessories and a corsage of blue carnations. Mrs. Overly wore a pale pink sleeveless dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Table decorations were highlighted with multi-colored florets placed on leather leaf. Miss Cora Henn presided at the guest register. Other hostesses were Mrs. Michael Overly, sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Roger Connell, cousins of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Arkansas and Missouri the bride wore a white A-line dress with a large, pink trimmed collar forming a V neckline. The couple now resides at Route 1, Circleville.

The new Mrs. Overly is a graduate of Circleville High School. Mr. Overly, a graduate of Westfall High School, is currently employed by the Circleville Coca Cola Bottling Co. and

Church Class Has Program On Japan

Willing Workers Class of Pontious United Methodist Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Floyd Brobst, Route 5.

Mrs. Ethel Klingensmith opened the meeting with prayer. The poem "A Thankful Heart" was read by Mrs. Robert Brobst and members sang "In The Garden."

For devotions Mrs. Walter Richards read Luke 24:28-35 and her theme was "God And I Have An Understanding." She presented the readings "Pray On," "Wool Merchants Testimony" and "Golden Nuggets Of Salvation."

A brief business session was conducted by vice president, Mrs. Robert Brobst.

Mrs. Lucille Woods presented a program about Japan. She told of her experiences while living there, the costumes they wear and showed many interesting items made and used by the Japanese.

Refreshments were served to the nine members present by Mrs. Brobst and Mrs. Cecile Palm.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Larry Goodman, Route 2, Amanda.

MISS SHIRLEY DOWDEN

Mrs. Ankrom Hosts Circle

Mrs. Marie Goodman presented the program for the June meeting of Circle 2, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. George Ankrom, 131 Hayward Ave. Attending were 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Clifford Davis.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, leader, conducted the meeting, opening with the reading, "The Story Our Shoes Tell Us." Theme for the devotions was "Pray For Faith In God, Not Things." Scripture reading was from Matthew, chapter 7 verse 16. Silent prayer was held for special areas of need.

Members were reminded that the School of Missions will be held at Westerville, July 9-16. Reservations may be made with Miss Lucille Kirkwood.

It was announced that a trip to the Otterbein Home is being planned for the near future. Discussion was held on several projects being planned for general circle activities.

Mrs. Goodman's program topic was "Cuba - Risk And Reality." Mrs. Clydus Leist read a general background of the country. Mrs. Goodman read a review of the problems and conflicts faced daily by the people of the country and the effects these conflicts leave behind them.

Mrs. Ankrom, Mrs. Harold Baker and Mrs. Hazel Merz, representing women from different walks of life, told of their reactions and attitudes toward the revolutionary conflicts in their country as each works for a solution. As a teacher, a mother with small children and a pediatrician with teen-age children, each told what it means to be a Christian in Cuba. Mrs. R. E. Nau completed the program with prayer.

The next meeting will be in the Service Center with Mrs. Edna McLaughlin as hostess. Mrs. David Steele will be program leader.

Mrs. Davis assisted the hostess in serving refreshments following the meeting.

Girl Scouts To Study At COSI In Columbus

The Center of Science and Industry, 280 E. Broad St., Columbus, and the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council are combining forces June 14-18 in a joint effort to give Girl Scouts a chance to learn something about various historical crafts or about the sciences, especially as pertains to badge work for Cadettes and Juniors.

Brownies, accompanied by their leaders, are having a chance to do some simple scientific experiments and discover some surprises by looking through a microscope. One hundred and seven Brownies have registered for this new adventure.

Classes for Junior and Cadette Scouts are being conducted by the professional staff of the Center, assisted by nine Senior Girl Scouts who are museum aides. Activities will be in the fields of earth sciences - astronomy, meteorology and geology; physical sciences, including photography; life sciences, including first aid and human health, as well as general studies of the plant and animal kingdoms; historical crafts - a variety of arts such as stenciling, weaving, block printing, spinning and textile decoration.

The historical crafts section seems to be the most popular, according to the registration figures, with sciences of earth and life nearly tying for second place, and life sciences trailing with 12 registrants.

This event is an annual opportunity which COSI has made available to Girl Scouts for the last several years. It gives non-members of the Center a chance to see and use the facilities and have at least a nodding acquaintance with the wonders of science and history. This year 225 Girl Scouts are taking advantage of this opportunity.

Girls from the Circleville Logan Trails Service Unit who are participating in the COSI opportunity are Amy Curtiss, 505 Lawnwood Court; Carolyn Tammany, Route 3, Knollwood Village; Kelly Spence, 424 Holiday Lane, and Kathryn and Linda Fisher, 431 Holiday Lane.

Mrs. Jim Ullman To Speak At Church

Mrs. Jim Ullman will speak and show films 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Morris United Methodist Church.

Her subject will be on the campus area and children of the Mission School at Southwest Indian School, Glendale, Ariz., where she visited as a member of the Crusade from World Gospel Service.

MATCHING NEW YORK CITY'S POLLUTION—During hearings in New Mexico, the U.S. Senate Interior Committee found that the Four Corners Power Plant

FTC To Revive Fight Against Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission plans soon to revive its seven-year-old fight to require cigarette makers to say in advertising that smoking is harmful to health.

The expected approach this time is a complaint against manufacturers charging that failure to warn of smoking's health hazards in cigarette ads is deceptive. Warnings already are required by law on cigarette packs.

A formal announcement of the proposed complaint is expected after July 1, when a congressional ban on health warning regulation by the FTC expires.

The FTC, which has backed health warnings in cigarette advertising since the 1964 report by the U.S. Surgeon General linking cigarette smoking and lung cancer, has been frustrated at every turn by Congress.

An FTC spokesman said Monday the agency's staff has recommended a plan of attack but wouldn't say publicly what it is. The five-man commission has not acted on the recommendation as yet, he added.

Congress has forbidden the FTC to make any industry-wide cigarette advertising rule without giving it six months notice. But the FTC is expected to try to skirt this by exercising its authority to move against false and misleading advertising, a reliable staff source said.

According to some reports, the commission staff feels that there is sufficient evidence linking smoking to lung and heart diseases that failure to disclose the link in advertising is deceptive.

British Common Mart Entry Readied; Prince Hits Setup

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — The foreign ministers of the six Common Market nations were putting together a package offer today to ease Britain's entry into the European Economic Community.

The European ministers agreed on terms covering Britain's imports of butter and cheese from New Zealand and expected to agree at another meeting today on a sliding scale for Britain's financial contribution to the Market budget.

As the ministers worked late Monday night, Britain's Prince Philip injected the monarchy into the bitter dispute in Britain over joining the Common Market. Queen Elizabeth's outspoken husband said in a speech in Edinburgh that the Market's farm policies were in "a most frightful mess."

A British spokesman said the proposal for imports from New Zealand was "not entirely satisfactory," but French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann was adamant.

"There is no question whatever of resuming discussions on this text," he said. "It was approved unanimously and it is our last word."

The proposal provides for duty-free imports of New Zealand's dairy products to continue for a five-year transitional period, but with a gradual decrease to 66 per cent of the current levels by 1978. No cheese guarantee would be extended after 1978, and a unanimous decision by the ministers would be necessary to continue the butter quota unchanged.

Britain's current imports of New Zealand dairy products amount to 170,000 tons of butter and 75,000 tons of cheese annually.

The schedule for British payments to the Common Market treasury was expected to run about 6 to 8 per cent of the community's budget for the first year, or about $180-264 million, rising gradually to about 20 per cent in 1977. After that the British contribution would be based on customs and tax receipts.

Lockheed-Bank Links Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ralph Nader has urged the Senate Banking Committee to investigate the "clubby atmosphere" he says surrounds Lockheed Aircraft, its banks and its airline customers.

Nader and an aide, James Welch, told the committee Monday nearly half the 24 banks which have loaned Lockheed $400 million are tied to one another.

In answer to a question by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., however, Welch said the interlocks are not necessarily improper as such.

House Votes On Atom Compact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The extent of Ohio's future involvement in the peaceful use of nuclear energy may well hinge on a vote scheduled in the Ohio House today.

Passage of the legislation sponsored by Rep. David Albritton, R-85 Dayton, would mean participation in a 13-state Midwest Nuclear Compact.

Once operational, the compact would be charged with studying all aspects of the nuclear field; seeing that word of the latest advances in the field are disseminated; and encouraging industrial and commercial use of nuclear material.

Funding for the compact is based upon a complicated series of formulas with the greatest financial burden generally falling on the wealthiest and most populous states.

Approval by six states is required before the compact can take effect.

The lower chamber will also vote on legislation offered jointly by Reps. David Hendley, D-96 Barberton, and Robert Manning, R-94 Akron, to write into state statutes composition of the state Emergency Board.

Under the bill's terms, the board would be made up of the governor or director of finance; the chairmen of the House and Senate Finance Committees; two state representatives, one from each party and appointed by the speaker and two senators, one from each party, appointed by the senate president protem.

Regular compensation on a per diem basis and travel expenses for members are provided in the measure.

Board membership is now set, in general, by majority party appointment.

Another House measure to be decided would establish protective services and public guardianship programs within the State Division of Mental Retardation for both the mentally retarded and the "developmentally disabled." The bill is sponsored by Rep. George Voinovich, R-53 Cleveland.

In the Senate afternoon session, bills are to be heard that would:

Gar Wood Dies; Famed For Boats

MIAMI (AP) — Gar Wood invested 50 cents in a small polished cylinder that he developed into the first hydraulic lift for dump trucks, an invention that netted him an estimated $50 million.

The revenue enabled him to finance racing boats, and during the 1930s he designed a launch for the Navy that became the famed patrol torpedo—PT—boats of World War II.

He died Saturday at Victoria Hospital, still a man ahead of his time at age 90. As long ago as 1960, before widespread concern about polluting the environment, he could be seen driving his homemade electric car along the MacArthur Causeway over Biscayne Bay.

Hamilton County Deaths Probed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County Coroner's office is investigating the deaths Monday of two men whose bodies were found less than an hour apart at their homes in nearby Hoover.

Hamilton County detectives said that the victims, William Greener, 65, and Claude Purvis, 53, were "friends" and that both apparently died from self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

They said that Greener was found dead by his wife. Then Purvis went to Greener's home and asked if he could help, detectives said, and he was told he could not. Purvis was found dead at his home about 45 minutes later.

—Require that a notice of sale of mortgage property seized to satisfy debts be sent to the last known address of the debtor.

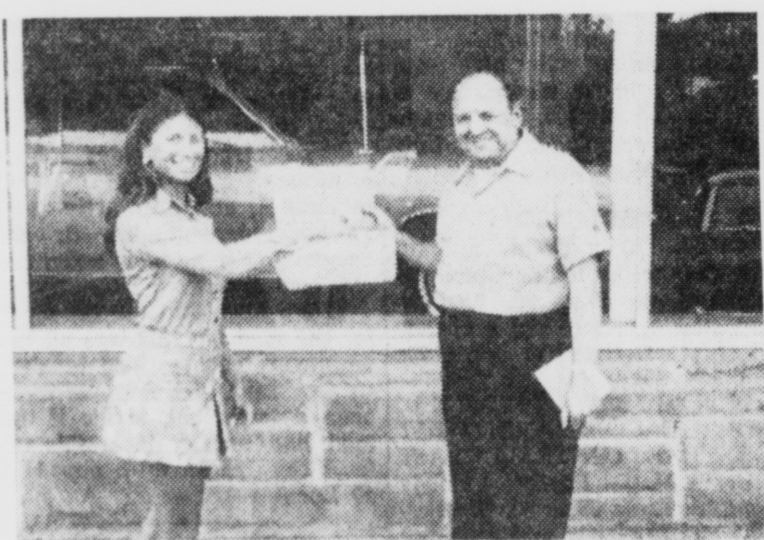

Under present law, noticed need be sent only to the address listed on the mortgage papers.

—Limit to five the number of years in which the state can

End - The - War Senators Seek Vote On Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — End-the-war senators moved today toward another vote, perhaps the closest yet, on a compromise amendment to set a pullout date.

The bipartisan proposal would require that all U.S. forces be out of Indochina nine months after enactment, provided agreement is reached in 60 days to release all U.S. prisoners.

Two end-the-war measures failed last week by margins of 8 and 13 votes. This time the outcome was seen as even closer. Republican Leader Hugh Scott was called back from a trip to Europe in case his vote is needed to defeat the latest measure.

The proposal is sponsored by Sens. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, and Vance Hartke, D-Ind. Cook, the main sponsor, previously voted against a series of amendments to limit President Nixon's freedom of action in withdrawing troops.

Mike Mansfield of Montana introduced a surprise plan Monday calling for an Indochina cease-fire and a total troop withdrawal over nine months, all timed to coincide with the phased release of all prisoners by the North Vietnamese.

Mansfield was blocked in efforts to get the Senate to vote immediately on his amendment, which would have no force of law but would put the United States on record as supporting such a policy.

Earlier this month the Senate defeated an amendment to set Dec. 31, 1971, as the cutoff date.

Council Approves Cleveland Budget

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland City Council has approved Mayor Carl B. Stokes' 1972 tax budget, enabling the city to obtain funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Council Monday night passed the budget as an emergency measure. The budget showed an estimated $137,132,000 revenue for next year, compared to $97,000,433 this year.

The main difference was in the amount of local government funds from the state. This year's estimate of income from the state funds is $9,014,225, compared to an estimated $46,300,000 for 1972.

Ohio Psychiatrists Rapped In Lima State Inmate Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland lawyer and a Cleveland minister have accused psychiatrists privately practicing in Ohio of ignoring pleas to help a sane man who they say was unjustly incarcerated at Lima State Hospital, the Cleveland Plain Dealer said today.

The newspaper said the lawyer, Franklin A. Polk, and the minister, the Rev. Louis Fritts, pastor of the Southern Bible Temple, tried to appeal in vain to a score of psychiatrists to help win the release from the hospital of a Cleveland tool and die maker.

The two said that the psychiatrists would not go to Lima to examine the patient and then tify in court, the Plain Dealer said, adding that the 39-year-old Cleveland was freed after a six-year-struggle only through the consideration of Allen County Common Pleas Judge John D. Harnishfeger.

Harnishfeger ordered the man returned to Cleveland in March and charges of arson against him were dropped shortly thereafter, the newspaper said.

The Rev. Mr. Fritts told the Plain Dealer that the man—who was a parishioner at his church — easily obtained a well-paying job in a West Side factory after gaining his liberty.

Polk told the Plain Dealer he offered to compensate the psychiatrist for examining the patient and testifying to his findings at a court hearing.

"Only one of the psychiatrists to whom we wrote even responded," said the Rev. Mr. Fritts. "He was from Lima. He said he was too busy to become involved in such matters. The psychiatrists we telephoned always were referring us to the other psychiatrists, who were always referring to others."

"Pretty soon we were so thoroughly disgusted, we simply gave up the medical profession," the minister said, adding that he hired Polk after all others declined to take the case at a "reasonable fee."

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather

summary from the National Weather Service:

Mild, sunny weather is scheduled for Ohio today, the first full day of summer.

Temperatures were mostly in the 50s last night under clear to partly cloudy skies. Warmest spots were the Ohio Valley with readings in the middle 60s and the Lake Erie shore with temperatures near 60. Coolest were Mansfield and Toledo Airport with 50.

Highs this afternoon were forecast in the 70s and low 80s. A high will move southeast across Ohio tonight, followed by a weak low bringing a chance of showers Wednesday.

Lows tonight will range from 50 to 60, highs Wednesday in the 70s and low 80s. Fair weather with a warming trend is forecast Thursday and Friday.

FORECASTS

OHIO—Partly cloudy and little change in temperature tonight. Lows 50 to 60. Wednesday partly cloudy and a chance of showers. Highs in upper 70s and low 80s.

NORTHWEST, INLAND, NORTHEAST INLAND, WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL — Partly cloudy tonight. Lows 55 to 60. Wednesday partly cloudy and a chance of showers. Highs in the low 80s.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST —Partly cloudy and mild tonight. Lows near 60. Wednesday partly cloudy and a chance of showers. Highs 80 to 85.

See Approval Near For Cincy Pollution Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final congressional approval is expected later this month for a $28 million federal anti-pollution research center in Cincinnati.

The House Appropriations Committee approved funds for the center Monday. The facility will operate under the Environmental Protection Agency.

The center is to be housed in a ten-story building on a 20-acre site purchased by the City of Cincinnati next to the University of Cincinnati.

The center will employ about 750 federal workers now working in scattered locations throughout the Cincinnati area. Construction is to begin within a few months. Completion is expected in 1975.

Viet Officials Fear U.S. Dispute May Speed Pullout

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Newspaper reports on the secret Pentagon study on U.S. military involvement in South-east Asia have caused top South Vietnamese officials to fear an accelerated withdrawal of American support, the Baltimore Sun reported today.

In a dispatch from Saigon, Sun correspondent Michael Parks said copies of the accounts which appeared in recent editions of the Washington Post and the New York Times were not widely available until Monday, more than a week after the first article appeared.

"If the American people believe they were tricked into sending troops here, it will be nearly impossible for President Nixon to keep any sort of residual force," worried a Vietnamese cabinet official, according to the Sun.

The Sun article said Vietnamese officials who held significant power during the 1964-1968 period covered in the Pentagon study have been scrutinizing each installment to see whether they are mentioned.

Several unnamed Saigon publishers, Parks reported, said they were warned by officials their newspapers would be seized if they attempted to publish an account in which the American ambassador in 1964, Maxwell Taylor, purportedly lambasted South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and two other officers for an attempted coup.

The Sun story said a Vietnamese civilian, formerly a prime minister and now a critic of Thieu, said his country could salvage some benefits from the revelations because "our dependence, our overdependence upon the United States is now irrefutable."

"I do not say we are the American puppets—the other side says we are," he continued. "But these documents will make it clear that, to save face for the Americans, we passed by many opportunities to reach a political settlement."

OUT OF SPACE—Astronaut Walter Cunningham, who flew a 260-hour mission in Apollo 7 in 1968, has resigned from the space program. He tells newsmen (above) at Houston's Space Center that failing support for the U.S. space program brought about his decision.

Truck Strike Is Ended

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 700 cement truck drivers return to work today following a three-week strike that ended Monday with approval of a three-year contract.

The walkout, which began June 1, had resulted in layoffs of thousands of workers in related industries because of the lack of cement.

The drivers, members of Local 100 of the Teamsters Union, ratified the contract proposal of the Greater Cincinnati Ready Mixed Cement Association by a 134-94 vote.

The contract provides a hike of 85 cents an hour, retroactive to June 1, and ultimately $1.90 an hour increase. The drivers received $4.50 an hour under the old contract.

"We'd have liked to get more for the men but this was all the employers could afford to give, so they said, and it would have been a long, long strike if the men had turned down this offer," said Ira Farmer, president of Local 100.

SOME ANTIQUES can be displayed in a utilitarian way. For example: Picturesque old shaving mugs as cups for terrace breakfasts. They keep coffee hot in the open air.

The grand old brass or copper antique bed-warmer, with its long handle removed, has been used as a super server for buttered popcorn or, ignobly, as a giant ashtray for careless smokers of pipes, cigars and cigarettes.

Bed-warmers, or warming-pans, were meant to be filled with hot ashes from a downstairs fireplace to treat damp or cold bed linens in the generally un-heated sleeping rooms in old times. Fair Skies Accompany New Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant weather favored most of the nation today as the summer season got into full swing.

Temperatures in the 60s spread over the northern sector of the nation overnight, warming to the 70s in the South and into the 90s in the Southwest.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms dampened the Middle Atlantic States and the Upper Mississippi River Valley. Rain also was reported from the Gulf States to Kentucky and from the Upper Plains to the Rockies.

Rainfall generally was light although more than an inch fell at Asheville, N.C., during the night.

Thunderstorms, hail and severe lightning moved across northern Alabama and an electrical storm darkened the Florence area in the northwest part of the state.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 96 at Needles, Calif., to 43 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Coal Mine Strike Comes To An End

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A week-long sympathy strike by coal miners protesting a court decision against United Mine Workers President Tony Boyle ended Monday as miners in east central Ohio and the West Virginia panhandle reported back to work.

About 2,000 miners in the area had been off the job, despite pleas from union officials and Boyle, himself, to return to work. Boyle was ordered to step down as a trustee of the union's welfare and retirement fund.

The court ruled his union presidency, coupled with his directorship of a union-owned bank in Washington, conflicted with his position on the fund board.

Still waiting in the wings are plans offering the Senate two new dates—May 15 or Oct. 15, 1972—for complete withdrawal.

Offered by Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Mark Hatfield, D-Ore., those dates are also coupled to an agreement to release all prisoners.

Meanwhile, 24 senators joined a move to shut off debate on the over-all Selective Service and military pay bill to which the end-the-war amendments would be attached.

Their cloture petition will force a vote Wednesday on ending the filibuster led by Mike Gravel, D-Alaska.

Mansfield, who signed the cloture petition, said he had little expectation the necessary two-thirds of the Senate would support the move.

Gravel said the debate should continue to allow the public to express what he sees as an overwhelming opposition to any continuation of the war.

High Court Nixes Lima Man's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court refused Monday to consider the case of a Lima realtor who claimed he was dropped from a country club for protesting exclusion of Jews from club membership.

James Macdonald Jr. had filed suit against the Shawnee Country Club in Lima for damages under federal civil rights laws. He said his expulsion cost him his $650 admission fee and ten years of active membership.

A high will move southeast across Ohio tonight, followed by a weak low bringing a chance of showers Wednesday.

Lows tonight will range from 50 to 60, highs Wednesday in the 70s and low 80s. Fair weather with a warming trend is forecast Thursday and Friday.

Attorneys for the club said it has had a number of Jewish members. Macdonald is a Catholic.

Macdonald's attorneys said the court should rule in his case, since it has agreed to rule on the exclusion of Negroes from private social clubs that hold state liquor licenses.

The Shawnee club has no state liquor license, Macdonald said, because Ohio provides no licenses for clubs.

The high court made no comment in rejecting the appeal. Federal and appeals courts have already ruled against Macdonald.

Phils Nip Reds; Win Clash 5-3

CINCINNATI (AP) — The number "5" proved to be quite a bit luckier for Philadelphia reliever Darrell Brandon Monday night than it did Sunday.

The 30-year-old right-hander, picked up as a free agent in spring, dazzled Cincinnati without a hit in the last five innings as the Phillies nipped the Reds 5-3 in 12 innings.

On Sunday against the New York Mets, Brandon was called for a relief job and was bombed for five straight hits without retiring a batter.

"You just have to forget days like that and try to pitch your best the next time out," said Brandon, a veteran of eight Major League organizations but of only 98 major league games before this season.

"Some nights you can go out and pitch great in relief and then one night you hang a pitch to a hitter like Lee May and you lose. That's the way baseball is."

After the Phillies knotted the score 3-3 with three runs in the eighth inning, Brandon, 3-3, was called from the bullpen. He struck out four men and walked only two.

Before the game, Brandon had hurled in 22 2-3 innings and had a 2.35 earned run average.

"He is one big plus in my book," said Phillies Manager Frank Lucchesi. "He has been in short relief most of the year and this is the longest he has gone. He had an extremely good

John Mahler Makes It Big In Racing

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP) — John Mahler's Cinderella story in auto racing—it began at Indianapolis a month ago where he drove faster than any rookie in the speedway's history—has come to full flower in the Pocono Mountains.

Mahler, a cigar-smoking 34-year-old from Bettendorf, Iowa, arrived at the new Pocono International Raceway Monday with a new McLaren racer, a full crew, a noted chief mechanic and money in his pocket.

He's aiming for a high-up spot in the 33-car field that will start the $400,000 Schaefer 500 on July 3, and more than likely he will get it.

Mahler was strictly a "who's he" when he arrived at the Indy from the sports car circuit in early May. He was broke, without a ride and without prospects for one. That is, until he ran into Dick Simon.

Simon, the courtly Salt Lake City driver-businessman took an interest in Mahler and agreed to let the long-haired rookie take his pre-entry tests in one of his Travelodge Specials.

Later in the month, Simon also agreed to let the Iowa qualify one of the cars for the race. It was the worst decision Simon has made in racing, and Mahler's best.

The Iowa, with only minor experience in championship cars, surprised even himself by qualifying at 170.164 miles per hour—best of any rookie ever at the Speedway—and, in effect, helped bump Simon from the lineup.

The next day Simon bumped Mahler from the car, saying his contract with Travelodge required him to drive the machine. Mahler spent race day working in Simon's pit. The car managed a 14th place finish and $18,870.

Harrelson Switches To Golfdom

BOSTON (AP)—Even his closest buddies have been unable to talk Ken "Hawk" Harrelson from quitting baseball in favor of a shot at rich money on the pro golf tour.

Jim Lonborg, the 1967 Cy Young Award winner in pitching the Boston Red Sox to the American League pennant, got the last chance Monday in trying to get Harrelson to change his mind.

"Lonnie and I are old friends, but this is it," the Hawk said in quitting a $88,000-a-year job with the Cleveland Indians.

"I've made up my mind. My decision to leave baseball is irrevocable."

Harrelson, 29, planned to make his swan song to baseball Monday night when his Cleveland Indians played his old pals, the Boston Red Sox.

Delayed by a golf tournament appearance for charity, Harrelson missed batting practice. However, he was ready to pinch hit if necessary. He wasn't needed. The game was postponed after 2½ innings because of rain.

Richie Karl Leads Open Qualifiers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I was hitting the ball solid," said Richie Karl, who fired a six-under-par 65 to tie the Beechmont Country Club course record and lead a list of 10 qualifiers for the ninth annual $150,000 Cleveland Open that starts Thursday.

The 26-year-old first-year pro from Endicott, N.Y., has earned just $2,500 this season. His only victory came in the Yuma, Ariz., satellite tournament.

SLINGIN' SAM—That fire-throwing pitcher of the Indians, Sam McDowell, pours it out against the Milwaukee Brewers in a two-hit performance in Cleveland, Sam winning his sixth in a row after a bad start. The Cleveland southpaw set down the first 16 batters he faced.

Stargell, Pirates Stomp N.Y. Mets, 6-0

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Stargell isn't one to put a face before a figure—at least not on a baseball scoreboard.

Stargell, pleased with the new likeness of him which appears on the electronic scoreboard at Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium, socked his 25th home run of the season Monday night as the Pirates widened their National League East Division lead by whipping the second-place New York Mets 6-0.

Stargell's statistics continue to mount. He leads the majors in homers and runs batted in, with 67, and is hitting a solid .311.

In other NL games, rookie Bobby O'Brien outpitched returning veteran Bob Gibson as Los Angeles trimmed St. Louis 4-0; Philadelphia topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 12 innings and Atlanta split a double-header with Montreal, winning 6-4 before a 5-3 loss.

After the twin bill, the Braves released 47-year-old reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, the all-time leader in pitching appearances with 1,045 in 20 major league seasons.

Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis styled the Mets on eight scattered hits to reel off his ninth straight victory and become the National League's biggest winner with an 11-3 mark.

The Pirates led 3-0 in the fifth inning when Stargell unloaded against left-hander Jerry Koosman, the Mets' starter.

Pittsburgh's Bob Robertson set a major league record for first baseman with eight assists.

O'Brien, making his first start in the majors after nine relief stints, shackled the Cardinals on six hits. Gibson, back on the mound for the first time since May 29, when he went on

Cincy Gets Own Pro Hockey Team

CINCINNATI (AP) — For the first time since 1958, Cincinnati boasts its own professional hockey team.

The American Hockey League board of governors, meeting in Freeport, Grand Bahamas, Monday, voted to award the old Buffalo, N. Y., franchise to Cincinnati.

The team, which will serve as the chief farm and development club for the Buffalo Sabres of the National Hockey League, will begin playing in the AHL next season and its home will be the Cincinnati Gardens.

The Queen City currently has three other professional sports teams—the Cincinnati Reds in the National Baseball League, the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League and the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association.

Cincinnati Gardens management had operated a hockey team from 1948 until 1958 when financial losses forced them to give it up. In the 1950s, the team, the Cincinnati Mohawks, dominated competition in the International Hockey League.

In 1964, an Indianapolis-based Central Hockey League team finished its season here after an explosion ripped through its home—the Indianapolis Coltiseum.

The Cincinnati team will compete in the AHL's Western Division along with Cleveland; Baltimore, Hershey, Pa.; Tidewater, Va.; and Richmond, Va. The league plays a 76-game schedule.

Pickaway O-I Tops Stoutsville

Pickaway O-I beat Stoutsville 8-1 during a 5 inning game in Tri County Minor League action Monday night.

Jeff Davis was the winning pitcher, giving up two hits, walking two and striking out five.

Batting for Pickaway were Terry Wright who was two for two, Jeff Davis, two for three, Steve Kerns batted one for one and Danny Stevens and Ray Moats were two for three.

Morrison and Vanover were pitchers for Stoutsville, both giving up nine hits, walking eight and striking out three.

Vanover and Morrison had the two hits for Stoutsville.

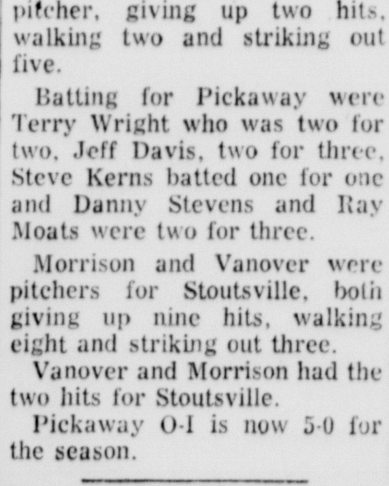

Pickaway O-I is now 5-0 for the season.

Ray Fosse Passes Freehan In Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Fosse of Cleveland has caught—and passed—Bill Freehan of Detroit for catcher of the American League All-Star team.

Fosse, who had trailed from the beginning of the vote, now leads Freehan 169,743 to 157,158, according to figures released Monday by the office of Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston continues as the leading vote getter, with 350,046.

RAY FOSSE—Cleveland's Ray Fosse has passed Detroit's Bill Freehan for catcher of the American League All-Star team.

Trevino Bests Jack Nicklaus To Win U.S. Open Golf Title

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Lee Trevino, who until a month ago considered himself a give-up artist, won the 71st annual U.S. Open Golf Championship by beating Jack Nicklaus, the man rated as the best golfer in the world.

The 31-year-old Trevino, Mexican-American grandson of a Dallas gravedigger, bogeyed the first hole at Merion Golf Club and then went on to shoot a two-under-par 68 for a three-stroke victory over the favored Nicklaus. Nicklaus scored one-over-par 71.

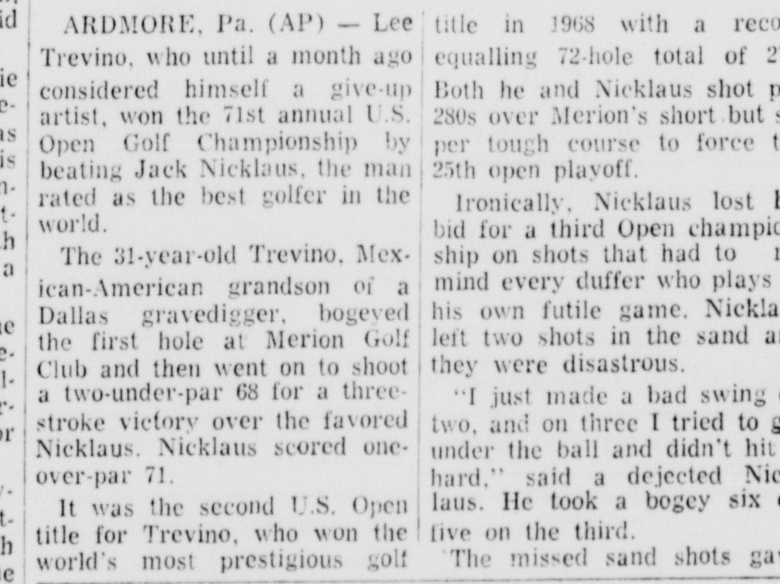

It was the second U.S. Open title for Trevino, who won the world's most prestigious golf title in 1968 with a record equalling 72-hole total of 275. Both he and Nicklaus shot par 280s over Merion's short but super tough course to force the 25th open playoff.

Ironically, Nicklaus lost his bid for a third Open championship on shots that had to remind every duffer who plays of his own futile game. Nicklaus left two shotes in the sand and they were disastrous.

"I just made a bad swing on two, and on three I tried to get under the ball and didn't hit it hard," said a dejected Nicklaus. He took a bogey six on five on the third.

The missed sand shots gave

Coca Cola, American Legion Win LL Major Tilts Monday

Coke and Legion were winners in Monday's Major League action.

Coca Cola won over Bingman's Drugs 11-7 making them 4-0 for the season.

Al Ranch was on the mound for Coke giving up seven hits, walking three and striking out seven.

Rick Allen smacked a double, Perry Ogerly hit a double and a single, Scott Barthelmas got a double and a single, and Biff Bumgarner banged a double and two singles for the Coke nine.

Bill Mogan pitched for Bingman's walking four, allowing ten hits and striking out nine.

Mogan hit a triple, a double, and a single for Bingman's with Randy Hoop and Kevin Lewis each smacking doubles.

BPOE was defeated by American Legion 2-1 in a tight battle.

Bob Fuller was the winning pitcher fanning seven, walking three and allowing five hits.

Tom McGuire finished the game with one strikeout.

The losing pitchers were Gary Wolford and Brad Allison, both with seven strikeouts, three walks and six hits against them.

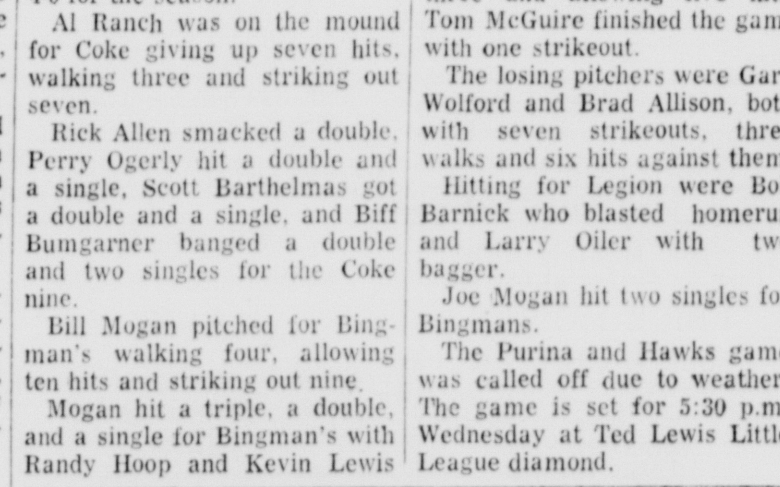

Hitting for Legion were Bob Barnick who blasted homerun and Larry Oiler with two bagger.

Joe Mogan hit two singles for Bingmans.

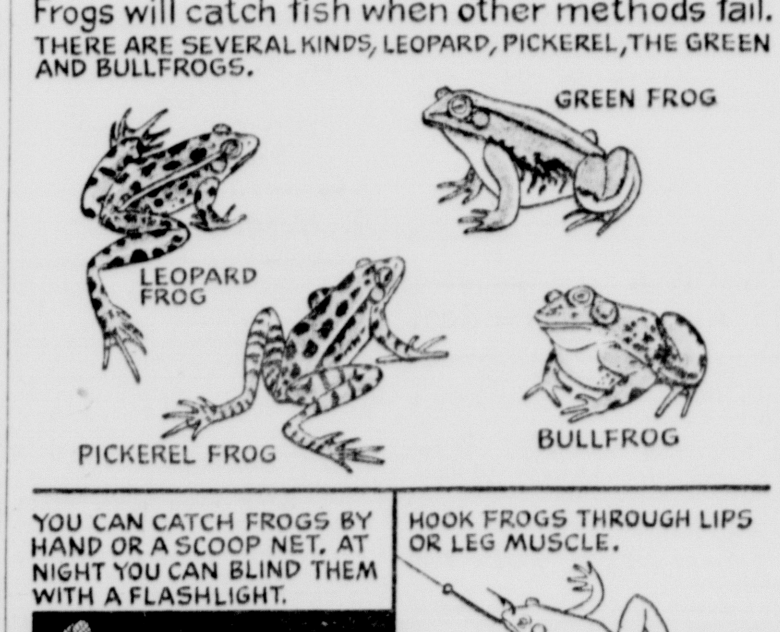

The Purina and Hawks game was called off due to weather. The game is set for 5:30 p.m. Wednesday at Ted Lewis Little League diamond.

the disabled list with arm trouble, was clipped for three runs and six hits before leaving for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Willie Davis drilled a single, double and his third homer to drive in two Los Angeles runs.

Willie Crawford had two singles and a triple and Richie Allen a two-run single for the Dodgers.

Willie Montanez' two-run triple in the 12th carried the Phillies past the Reds, handing winless JimMerritt his ninth setback of the season.

Pete Rose homered for the Reds, who led 3-0 before five consecutive Philadelphia singles produced three runs in the eighth.

Hank Aaron belted his 20th home run and Mike Lum, Hal King and Darrell Evans also homered in an eighth inning barrage that brought Atlanta from behind in its opener against the Expos.

Montreal fought back to gain a split when Ron Hunt doubled home the last two of three eighth inning runs.

The Braves announced they had given Wilhelm his unconditional release, recalled two young players from their Richmond farm club and traded utility infielder Marv Stabley to Hawaii for two minor leaguers.

Wilhelm, on the disabled list most of this season with a sore arm, had no record in three relief appearances.

Famous U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right—20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full"—no starvation—because the diet is designed that way! It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home. For men, too.

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. (Not Grapefruit Diet). That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $1.25 ($1.50 for Rush Service)—cash is O.K.—to: Ski Team Diet, 219 Sheffield Dr., Dept. RC, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93103. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

When South Carolina sophomore Kevin Joyce's injured ankle put him on the sidelines he had averaged 13.1 points a game in 18 games for the Gamecocks.

Since Golf Digest started its "clearing house" for holes-in-one in 1952 a total of 183,200 aces have been officially recorded.

Blue, A's Turn Back Twins, 3-2

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Vida Blue is going for a 30-game blastoff, but he's not really counting. The sensational Oakland left-hander won his 15th game of the season Monday night, setting down Minnesota 3-2 with a 13-strikeout performance that increased the A's American League West lead to eight games over second place Kansas City. The Royals lost 5-1 to Chicago.

Elsewhere in the AL Monday night, Baltimore ripped Washington 7-2 and Milwaukee nipped California 3-2 in 10 innings. Boston and Cleveland were rained out and the other teams were not scheduled.

Blue's workmanlike job on the Twins moved him halfway to 30 victories, a fact that doesn't impress the cool youngster.

"At the end of the season," he said, "we'll see what I've got. Whatever it is, I'll be satisfied."

What Blues got right now is a major league leading 146 strikeouts, 15 complete games in 19 starts and a 15-2 record. He allowed just seven hits against Minnesota, but only one after the fifth inning.

The Twins nicked Oakland's ace for three hits and both their runs in the third inning, giving rookie Ray Corbin a 2-1 lead. The A's tied it on Mike Epstein's double and singles by Sal Bando and Dave Duncan in the sixth and then scored the deciding run in the seventh when Minnesota catcher George Mitterwald threw wild on a delayed double steal.

The last man to win 30 games was Denny McLain in 1963 and the controversial right-hander could reach 30 again this season, but on the wrong side of the ledger.

Washington's McLain lost his eighth straight and 13th in 17 decisions as Baltimore belted him for 16 hits and whacked the Senators.

Boog Powell, who was batting .178 before the game, cracked three singles and a double and drove in three runs for the Orioles. Paul Blair also had four hits and drove in one run and Frank Robinson knocked in three with two hits for the Birds, who lead the AL East by 5 games over idle Detroit.

Mike Andrews raced home all the way from second on a strikeout for the tie-breaking run and Chicago went on to whip Kansas City behind Tommy John.

Andrews walked in the second and moved up on an infield out. When the third strike on Luis Alvarado got past catcher Jerry May, Andrews took off and scored as May threw Alvarado out at first base. Andrews later doubled home another Chicago run in the eighth.

Roberto Pena tied the game with a ninth inning single and then drove in Milwaukee's winning run in the 10th with another hit as the Brewers topped California. Milwaukee, held to a scratch single for eight innings by Rudy May, rallied to tie the game in the ninth on singles by Tommy Harper and Pena sandwiched around Gus Gil's sacrifice. After California reliever Dave Laroche walked the bases loaded in the 10th, Pena drilled his game-winning single.

Hoyt Wilhelm Turned Out By Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — Hoyt Wilhelm, the ageless knuckleball reliever who has spent more than half his life in organized baseball says, "I think I can pitch if I just get a chance. I haven't had a chance to pitch here this year."

Wilhelm, who will celebrate his 48th birthday July 26, was given his unconditional release Monday night in a surprise move by the Atlanta Braves.

"No, I had no idea this was going to happen," said Wilhelm. "That's the way they do. They don't give a damn. 'I don't have any plans right now,' added Wilhelm, who holds the major league record for pitching appearances at 1,045. "I'll go back home (Columbus, Ga.) and see if I can catch on with another club for the rest of the year."

The Braves, who have lost nine of their last 13 games and are mired in fifth place 15 games behind in the National League West, made no moves prior to the June 15 trade deadline.

The Wilhelm announcement Monday night following a doubleheader with Montreal involved five other players. The Braves said outfielder Oscar Brown and reliever Tom House are being called up immediately from their International League farm club at Richmond. Utility infielder Marv Staehle was traded to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League for pitcher Jack DiLauro and first baseman-outfielder Hank McGraw. DiLauro, who has pitched for Houston and the New York Mets, will be assigned to Richmond.

Cincy Woman Freed By Jury In Fatal Shooting

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — A Cincinnati woman is free of a murder charge because the Clermont County grand jury said Monday the death of her estranged husband was a "justifiable homicide."

Sadie Lewis, 32, had been charged with second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of Paul Lewis, Cincinnati, also 32, last April 26 at a trailer park near here where she was staying with her brother.

The grand jury did indict 25-year-old Virginia Carter of New Richmond on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting death of her husband, Gerald, 29, as he slept at their home on April 15.

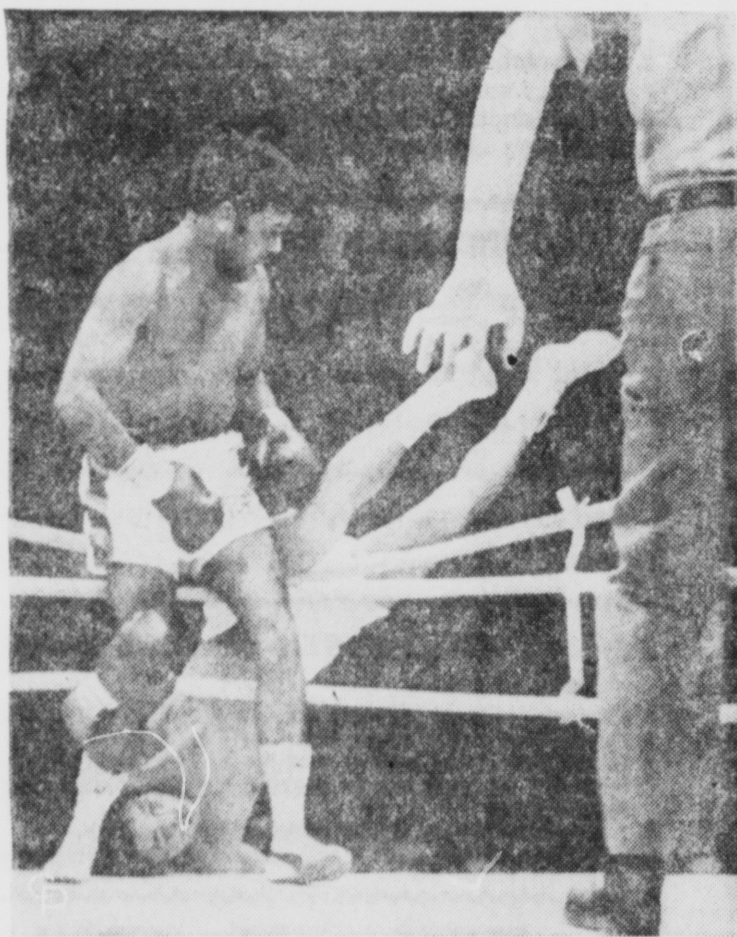

In another case, David Plautz, formerly a policeman in nearby Fairfax, was named on a true bill for possession of burglar tools. The Fairfax man is awaiting trial in both Clermont and Hamilton Counties on other charges.

ROPED AND FIT TO BE TIED — The junior lightweight, champ, Yoshi Nunami of Japan, winds up in a very unorthodox position during a recent bout with Lionel Rose of Australia in Hiroshima, Japan, but managed to get untangled in time to win a unanimous nod over Rose.

Pitching perfect game.

JIM-DANDY GOES ON AND ON—Although he's 39 and is in his 16th season in the majors, Jim Bunning, the righthander of the Phillies, goes on and on and has a 5-8 mark this year although he's being used as a spot starter and a reliever. Bunning, who became the No. 2 man in total strikeouts in the game's history this year, became the first pitcher in modern history last year when he reached a goal of winning 100 games in each major league. The Covington, Ky., native, father of nine children and named to the White House Advisory Conference on physical fitness, came out of Xavier University in Cincinnati to sign with the Tigers, playing at Richmond first in 1950. He was with the Tigers for eight years, then with the Phils, Pirates, Dodgers and then back to the Phillies again. He pitched a no-hitter against Boston in the A.L. and a perfect game against the Mets in the N.L. He will be honored with a "Night" July 24 in Philly.

Grad Student Art Works Featured

Art works of Ruth E. Montelius, Route 1, will be featured along with works of Miami University graduate student Pamela M. Fisher in the Art Education Graduate Show Friday in Oxford.

The showing will be at Oxford Savings, 29 W. High St., 6 - 8 p.m. Artists will be in attendance.

Miss Montelius, former art instructor in the Westfall schools, is currently attending Miami University where she will be awarded a Master's degree in Art Education in August.

Following graduation, she will return to Westfall schools where she has been employed by the Board of Education to head the art departments of the school district for the school year beginning in September.

White Ponders Congressional Vote Campaign

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Assistant House Majority Leader Walter White, R-G, Lima, said Monday he is "thinking about" running for the congressional seat to be vacated next year by U.S. Rep. William McCulloch of Piqua.

McCulloch, a Republican, has said he will not seek reelection to the Fourth District seat in 1972 because of ill health.

White told a Lima Rotary Club luncheon Monday: "I am thinking about it, but that is not an announcement."

White is among dissident Republicans pushing for adoption of an eight-tenths per cent, flat rate personal income tax instead of a higher, graduated tax like those supported by the Republican leadership and Democratic Gov. John Gilligan.

Westfall Board Hears Building Survey Report

Westfall School Board members heard a report Monday by a representative of the Building Inspection Bureau employed in May to survey the prospect of rehabilitation for all the district's elementary and junior high schools.

Harry Collier, the bureau representative, presented the board with his report dealing with codes the Williamsport school must meet for repair and submitted architectural drawings describing work that must be done to rehabilitate it. A report on the other three structures will be delivered later this week.

Action on the matter was withheld until the board can assemble with the members of the Citizen's Committee to study the reports. The meeting is planned for the week of July 5.

The annual budget meeting will be July 12, the date of the regular monthly meeting of the board of education next month.

A PERSONAL and professional leave policy was adopted effective Sept. 1 for personnel. All leaves must be approved through the office of the district superintendent, William Shearer.

In cooperation with the Westfall athletic director, the board has set up a guideline for sport practice hours at the high school. All students taking part in football and baseball should be showered and dressed and ready to leave the school grounds by 5:30 p.m. on practice nights. Track participants should be ready by 4:45 p.m.

First practice session for basketball will dismiss at 5 p.m. and the second at 7:15 p.m. The guidelines were suggested to benefit parents of students participating in the programs as to times when the youths may be picked up.

A resignation was received from Mrs. Marcella Porter, seventh and eighth grade teacher at Monroe. She will continue teaching as a substitute in Pickaway County schools. Mrs. Pauline Bower resigned from her post in the high school cafeteria.

Employed were Miss Ann Posey and Miss Brenda Sue Winner. Miss Posey, 1971 college graduate, will assume the teaching job at Monroe Junior High. Miss Winner, a 1971 WHS graduate, was hired as secretary in the office of Westfall Principal Roger Beck, replacing Mrs. Irene Stubbs who took a vacant secretarial post in the Superintendent's office.

All the Westfall board was present with the exception of Mrs. Shirley Bowsher, who is recovering from an illness. Other members include: President Richard Redman, Troy McPherson, Mrs. Jeanne Lett, Eugene Bush and Clerk Kenneth Reid.

Times . . .

In a similar case involving The Washington Post, U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell ruled Monday that the newspaper could go ahead with its series based on the same Pentagon study but the appeals court quickly ordered a stay.

The Post began publication of the study where The Times left off and was halted by a restraining order after two installments. Today the Boston Globe printed new portions of the study.

Gesell threw out the government's case against The Post last week but the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia reversed him and ordered Monday's hearing. The full nine-man court was to hear the government's appeal for an injunction today.

The Pentagon study, entitled "History of U.S. Decision-Making on Vietnam Policy," traces the nation's involvement in Indochina from the end of World War II to 1967. It was ordered by then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The Times obtained copies of both that study and another document, a summary of "The Command and Control Study of the Tonkin Gulf Incident," and began publishing articles and excerpts Sunday June 13.

The Times said that it did so "with the conviction that it was in the interest of the people of the United States that they be informed and that it was the fundamental responsibility of the press to make such information available."

Boy Crushed By Freight Train Near His Home

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Charles R. Graley, 12, of Cleveland, whose friends told police he liked to hitch rides on trains, was crushed to death Monday when he fell beneath the wheels of a freight train near Brookside Park.

Two boys found the youth's body as they walked along the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. tracks about a half hour after the train had passed.

Police said there were no witnesses to the accident and trainmen were not aware of what had happened until notified by radio an hour later.

The boy's father, Hubert, 29, identified the youth's body by the shoes. Near the sole was written: "Charley Graley. Peace. Life."

(Continued from Page 1) put of the assembly line, not by a tactical skill on the ground. And you have this tremendous grouping of shallow dilettantes who were running the Army, I'm talking about battalion and up, who didn't know anything about the situation.

"They were saying, 'It'll be over in a few months, we've got the enemy on the run.'"

"We should have come with real professionals, absolute studs, who would stay until the thing is over, all volunteers. There are many guys who felt like me, who would have stayed over here, who didn't care about going home in a year."

Hackworth is believed to be the most decorated U.S. officer now on active duty. He holds two Distinguished Service Crosses, the Army's second highest award for valor; nine Silver Stars, nine Bronze Stars with V for valor, and eight Purple Hearts.

He has twice commanded U.S. combat battalions in Vietnam, served as senior operations adviser in the central highlands, was deputy senior adviser to the South Vietnamese airborne division at the time of the Cambodian invasion last year and has just completed a year as a senior adviser in the Mekong Delta.

A few years ago Hackworth was one of a small group of officers whose views were solicited by Gen. William C. Westmoreland after he became Army chief of staff.

"Westmoreland? . . . He was so steeped in management, if he had known what was going on, how this war should have been fought, we wouldn't have gone into this huge—what he called—battle of attrition, a search and destroy mission, which I always thought was a huge waste . . ."

He sees difficult years ahead for the Army because of the Vietnam experience. "The erosion has cut so deep," he said, "that it will take at least 20 years for the American military to recover."

After leaving the Army, he is going to write a book—not a critique of Vietnam but a text on counterinsurgency. "It will be the answer to Che Guevara," he said.

Big May Living Cost Jump Brings Call For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — May's jump in living costs, biggest of the year, sliced another half a cent off every dollar.

The Nixon administration's hopes to curb inflation received a second jolt Monday when the Labor Department announced claims for unemployment insurance climbed substantially last week.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumer prices rose five-tenths of one per cent last month with half of the increase caused by higher prices for apparel, used cars, homes and the rising price of stamps.

It was the sharpest increase in the cost of living since a five-tenths rise last December, and even higher-six-tenths—on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The report came only hours after Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans told a labor convention, "The rate of inflation has now come within controllable boundaries and this has been achieved without a major dislocation in the nation's economy."

Speaking to the AFL-CIO Seafarers International Union, Stans said "in the first quarter of this year the rate of inflation was down to about 3 per cent—about half the average in the first quarter of 1969."

The report said "In the three months ending in May, the consumer price index rose at an annual rate of 4.2 per cent."

The May rise pushes the index up to 120.8 of its 1967 base of 100, meaning it cost $12.08 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate House Joint Economic Committee, called the CPI rise alarming. In a statement, he said the time is long past for setting up of presidential wage-price guidelines.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien called upon President Nixon

"to convene immediately an emergency economic conference to draft a comprehensive action plan to save the American economy."

"When coupled with the 6.2 unemployment that was reported two weeks ago, it is clear the Nixon economic game plan is a shambles," O'Brien said.

Food prices rose slightly, while prices of commodities other than food, which usually show no change in May, rose seven-tenths of 1 per cent. Charges for consumer services rose six-tenths of 1 per cent, with a fourth of the increase resulting from higher postal rates.

The total number of Americans receiving unemployment insurance the week ended June 5 was 9,947,000, up 30,900 for the week and 365,400 above a year ago, which the bureau described as substantial increases.

A Native West Virginian Makes Jewelry Out Of Coal

COAL CARVER — Lonnie Stone makes jewelry out of coal at Whitesville, W. Va. He also makes figurines, such as the one he is holding here. He and his wife have a staff of four to help them produce the coal items.

Grad Student Art Works Featured

Art works of Ruth E. Montelius, Route 1, will be featured along with works of Miami University graduate student Pamela M. Fisher in the Art Education Graduate Show Friday in Oxford.

The showing will be at Oxford Savings, 29 W. High St., 6-8 p.m. Artists will be in attendance.

Miss Montelius, former art instructor in the Westfall schools, is currently attending Miami University where she will be awarded a Master's degree in Art Education in August.

Following graduation, she will return to Westfall schools where she has been employed by the Board of Education to head the art departments of the school district for the school year beginning in September.

White Ponders Congressional Vote Campaign

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Assistant House Majority Leader Walter White, R-6 Lima, said Monday he is "thinking about" running for the congressional seat to be vacated next year by U.S. Rep. William McCulloch of Piqua.

McCulloch, a Republican, has said he will not seek reelection to the Fourth District seat in 1972 because of ill health.

White told a Lima Rotary Club luncheon Monday: "I am thinking about it, but that is not an announcement."

White is among dissident Republicans pushing for adoption of an eight-tenths per cent, flat rate personal income tax instead of a higher, graduated tax like those supported by the Republican leadership and Democratic Gov. John Gilligan.

Westfall Board Hears Building Survey Report

Westfall School Board members heard a report Monday by a representative of the Building Inspection Bureau employed in May to survey the prospect of rehabilitation for all the district's elementary and junior high schools.

Harry Collier, the bureau representative, presented the board with his report dealing with codes the Williamsport school must meet for repair and submitted architectural drawings describing work that must be done to rehabilitate it. A report on the other three structures will be delivered later this week.

Action on the matter was withheld until the board can assemble with the members of the Citizen's Committee to study the reports. The meeting is planned for the week of July 5.

The annual budget meeting will be July 12, the date of the regular monthly meeting of the board of education next month.

A PERSONAL and professional leave policy was adopted effective Sept. 1 for personnel. All leaves must be approved through the office of the district superintendent, William Shearer.

In cooperation with the Westfall athletic director, the board has set up a guideline for sport practice hours at the high school. All students taking part in football and baseball should be showered and dressed and ready to leave the school grounds by 5:30 p.m. on practice nights. Track participants should be ready by 4:45 p.m. First practice session for basketball will dismiss at 5 p.m. and the second at 7:15 p.m. The guidelines were suggested to benefit parents of students participating in the programs as to times when the youths may be picked up.

A resignation was received from Mrs. Marcella Porter, seventh and eighth grade teacher at Monroe. She will continue teaching as a substitute in Pickaway County schools. Mrs. Pauline Bower resigned from her post in the high school cafeteria.

Employed were Miss Ann Posey and Miss Brenda Sue Winner. Miss Posey, 1971 college graduate, will assume the teaching job at Monroe Junior High. Miss Winner, a 1971 WIS graduate, was hired as secretary in the office of Westfall Principal Roger Beck, replacing Mrs. Irene Stubbs who took a vacant secretarial post in the Superintendent's office.

All the Westfall board was present with the exception of Mrs. Shirley Bowsher, who is recovering from an illness. Other members include: President Richard Redman, Troy McPherson, Mrs. Jeanne Lett, Eugene Bush and Clerk Kenneth Reid.

The native West Virginia craftsman labored for three years on his new methods before he hit on the idea of using molds for even faster production.

First, Stone used a plaster mold similar to ones used by old-time pottery craftsmen. But that method took the "coal look" out of his jewelry, Stone said, and the market remained small and not too demanding.

Then Stone made a rubber mold, and in 1967 his business began to boom.

To make the figurines, the workers in the shop behind Stone's retail jewelry store pour a coal resin, made from powdered coal and mixed with a hardener, into the rubber mold, which is then encased in the plaster shell and baked "for about an hour."

One of the items produced by this method is a comical caricature of a coal miner, which was first marketed in 1967.

Stone now estimates some 10,000 of these figurines have been sold, not only throughout the United States but also in Australia, Germany and Japan.

The coal miner has proved to be such a popular item that the "laughing coal miner" — which more resembles the actual coal miner — was created and marketed for retail sale late last year.

A third coal miner figure — more along the lines of a caricature — is expected to be in production early this year.

Although Stone's staff is small — "only four and me," says Mrs. Stone — the group makes 50 to 60 figurines a week. Other items include a pin and an ashtray in the geographical shape of the state, a pin in the shape of a maple leaf, candelabras and various small figurines.

Army . . .

(Continued from Page 1) put of the assembly line, not by a tactical skill on the ground. And you have this tremendous grouping of shallow dilettantes who were running the Army. I'm talking about battalion and up, who didn't know anything about the situation.

"They were saying, 'It'll be over in a few months, we've got the enemy on the run.'"

"We should have come with real professionals, absolute studs, who would stay until the thing is over, all volunteers. There are many guys who felt like me, who would have stayed over here, who didn't care about going home in a year."

Hackworth is believed to be the most decorated U.S. officer now on active duty. He holds two Distinguished Service Crosses, the Army's second highest award for valor; nine Silver Stars, nine Bronze Stars with V for valor, and eight Purple Hearts.

He has twice commanded U.S. combat battalions in Vietnam, served as senior operations adviser in the central highlands, was deputy senior adviser to the South Vietnamese airborne division at the time of the Cambodian invasion last year and has just completed a year as a senior adviser in the Mekong Delta.

A few years ago Hackworth was one of a small group of officers whose views were solicited by Gen. William C. Westmoreland after he became Army chief of staff.

"Westmoreland? . . . He was so steeped in management, if he had known what was going on, how this war should have been fought, we wouldn't have gone into this huge — what he called — battle of attrition, a search and destroy mission, which I always thought was a huge waste . . ."

He sees difficult years ahead for the Army because of the Vietnam experience. "The erosion has cut so deep," he said, "that it will take at least 20 years for the American military to recover."

After leaving the Army, he is going to write a book — not a critique of Vietnam but a text on counterinsurgency. "It will be the answer to Che Guevara," he said.

Practice To Start For Westfall Band

A summer practice has been slated for members of the Westfall High School band, including new freshman students.

Director Jim Kibby asks that all members assemble for practice 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the high school band room with their instruments. This is in preparation for the marching performance at Ashville's July 4th celebration.

Big May Living Cost Jump Brings Call For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — May's jump in living costs, biggest of the year, sliced another half a cent off every dollar.

The Nixon administration's hopes to curb inflation received a second jolt Monday when the Labor Department announced claims for unemployment insurance climbed substantially last week.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumer prices rose five-tenths of one per cent last month with half of the increase caused by higher prices for apparel, used cars, homes and the rising price of stamps.

It was the sharpest increase in the cost of living since a five-tenths rise last December, and even higher-six-tenths — on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The report came only hours after Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans told a labor convention, "The rate of inflation has now come within controllable boundaries and this has been achieved without a major dislocation in the nation's economy."

Speaking to the AFL-CIO Seafarers International Union, Stans said "in the first quarter of this year the rate of inflation was down to about 3 per cent — about half the average in the first quarter of 1969."

The report said "In the three months ending in May, the consumer price index rose at an annual rate of 4.2 per cent."

The May rise pushes the index up to 120.8 of its 1967 base of 100, meaning it cost $12.08 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate House Joint Economic Committee, called the CPI rise alarming. In a statement, he said the time is long past for setting up of presidential wage-price guidelines.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence P. O'Brien called upon President Nixon

"to convene immediately an emergency economic conference to draft a comprehensive action plan to save the American economy."

"When coupled with the 6.2 unemployment that was reported two weeks ago, it is clear the Nixon economic game plan is a shambles," O'Brien said.

Food prices rose slightly, while prices of commodities other than food, which usually show no change in May, rose seven-tenths of 1 per cent. Charges for consumer services rose six-tenths of 1 per cent, with a fourth of the increase resulting from higher postal rates.

The total number of Americans receiving unemployment insurance the week ended June 5 was 9,947,000, up 30,900 for the week and 365,400 above a year ago, which the bureau described as substantial increases.
